SAFE THEFT CONFESSED BY BANDITS

Men Who Stole and Looted Cash Box Believed to Be Gang Engaged in Theft of Cars; Rebuilding Plant

Prisoners Admit the Crimes When Cornered With Evidence of Operations; Sale of Autos in Remote Places

With the arrest of three men, who early today confessed to having stolen the safe from Louis' Grill, near the Sixteenth street depot, several days ago, police believe they have in custody the leaders of one of the best organized bands of automobile thieves that has ever operated in Alameda county.

The men in custody are: Thomas S. Walsh, John Bourne and Harry Bugul.

They were arrested by Night Captain of Detectives Richard M. McSorley and Inspector Bodie Wallman. After an all-night grilling, they admitted early today to Captain Walter J. Petersen that they carried the safe away from the restaurant and that they had stolen a number of automobiles in Alameda county.

According to the police, they had a well-equipped garage in East Oakland, where they kept the automobiles, and altered them by changing parts to such an extent that it was almost impossible for owners to identify them.

EIGHT MACHINES ARE FOUND IN GARAGE.

Eight automobiles, believed by the police to have been stolen during past months, were found in the building when the detectives raided the garage at East Fourteenth street and Sixty-sixth avenue early today. All of these automobiles had been stripped of license plates, and the numbers on the engines had been filed off and in some cases changed.

The garage was equipped in such a manner, according to police, that any make of automobile could be successfully disguised.

After recovering the automobiles, police were inspecting them carefully today in order that they could be identified as machines reported missing.

Detectives say that the trio were the chiefs of the automobile theft ring. The garage, they say, was the property of Walsh, who served as the "rebuilding" superintendent and directed the work of disguising stolen cars. Bourne and Bugul, they say, directed the "outside" operations, "spotted" and "picked" the machines they wanted. Other arrests are expected.

SALE OF STOLEN CARS IN OTHER PLACES.

After the cars had been rebuilt, according to the detectives, they would be taken to other parts of the State and sold, on forged bills of sale.

When detectives raided the garage they found the safe which had been carried away from Louis' Grill several nights ago by burglars who entered the place by forcing a door. The vault had been carted off on an automobile truck.

The garage was first discovered by detectives of the automobile detail searching for stolen cars that had never been recovered. A trap was laid and the three men taken into custody.

At first they denied knowledge of the machine and said that they had nothing to do with the restaurant safe which was found in the building. However, after being questioned by Captain Petersen and the two detectives responsible for their arrest, early today they made a clean breast to the authorities of the safe robbery.

Police believe they are responsible for a number of other crimes which they have not admitted, and they will be questioned again late today.

NINETEEN-STORY BUILDING TO BE ERECTED FOR OAKLAND TRIBUNE WORK ON STRUCTURE WILL BEGIN AUGUST 1

Plant Will Be Enlarged to Double Present Capacity
EQUIPMENT UP TO MINUTE

Evidencing its faith in Oakland's future, and thoroughly convinced that the entire Eastbay region is marching toward the fulfillment of its metropolitan destiny, and to meet the increasing demands for space in every department of the newspaper, The TRIBUNE Publishing Company announces that operations on the construction of a 19-story building on property adjoining the present TRIBUNE building, will commence on August 1.

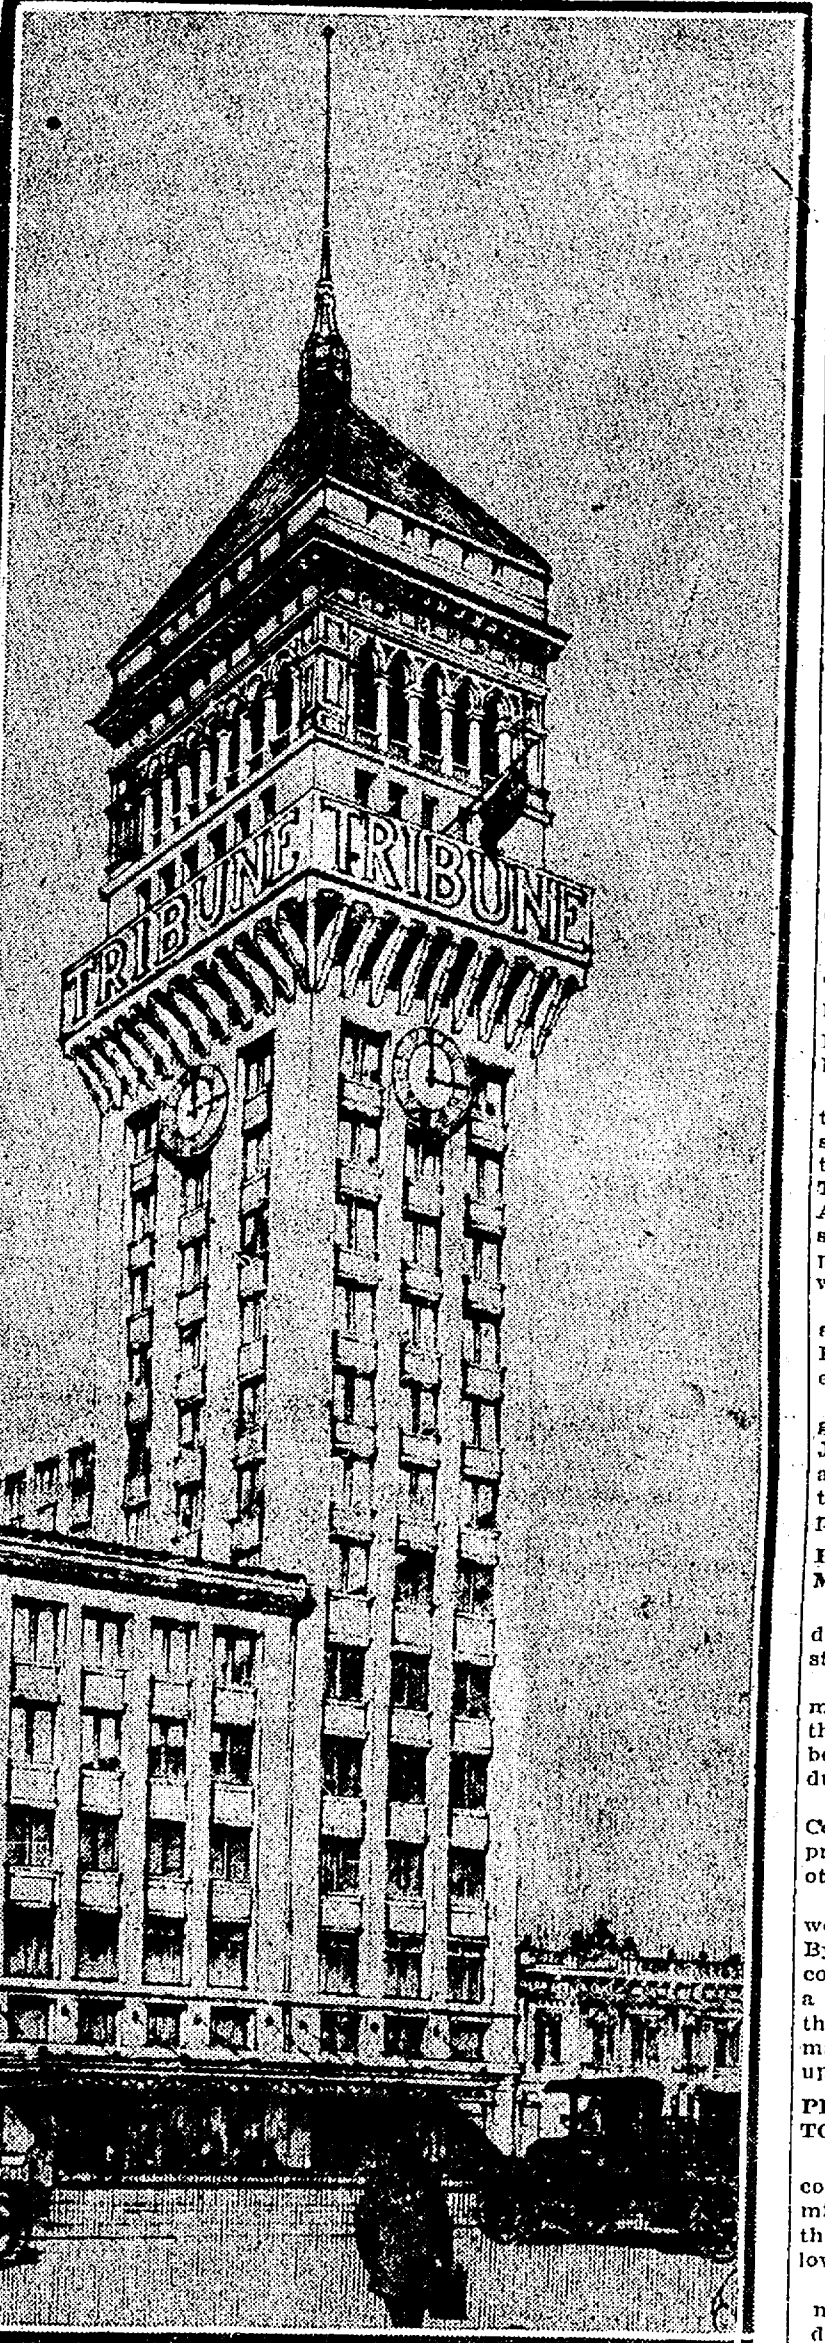

The property on which will arise this majestic structure which will form an integral part of, and a harmonious architectural entity with the present TRIBUNE building, was purchased two years ago from the Charles Jurgens company, and consists of a 40 by 100 foot lot on the south side of Thirteenth street, between Franklin and Broadway, adjoining the present TRIBUNE building.

The tower-like architecture of the new building, its tremendous height and notable decorative features, will constitute it a landmark and a beacon to all the bay region, and a counterpart of the Oakland City Hall.

BUILDING WILL BE CLASS A STRUCTURE.

The new building will be a Class A structure, steel frame, concrete faced, with specially designed pressed brick similar to the present TRIBUNE building. There will be a sub-basement and basement, and a total of nineteen stories, of which the first six, together with the basements, will be

The new 19-story TRIBUNE building, as it will appear when completed. Construction on the building, which will incorporate the present structure, will begin August 1.

'ARBITRATE,' IS EDICT IN COAL STRIKE

Harding, at Joint Gathering of Miners and Operators, Proposes Immediate Work With Board to Fix Wages

Present Scale Would Remain in Effect Till August 10, Pending Ruling; to Probe Every Phase of Industry

WASHINGTON, July 10.—By the Associated Press.—United Mine Workers' representatives after considering the coal strike arbitration plan presented by President Harding today summoned the general policy committee of the union to Washington next Monday to pass finally upon the proposal.

By JAMES T. KOLBERT, WASHINGTON, July 10.—President Harding today proposed federal arbitration of the nation-wide mine strike.

Before the conference of miners and operators at the White House, the executive suggested that the dispute be submitted to a federal commission composed of three operators, three miners and five persons to represent the public. The President would appoint the public representatives.

RESUME WORK PENDING DECISION, IS DEMAND.

Harding also again demanded that the operators and miners resume mining operations pending the findings of the commission. This commission would have until August 10 to arrange a new wage scale, according to the Harding plan. In the meantime, the old wage scale would be effective.

If a new wage scale cannot be agreed upon by August 10, the President suggested that the present scale be continued until 1923.

He asked that the two factions give him their answer tonight, and John D. Lewis immediately called a meeting of the miner conference to consider the President's new proposal.

EXHAUSTIVE PROBE OF MINE INDUSTRY PLANNED.

The plan put forth by the President is complete arbitration of the strike.

The commission also would make an exhaustive inquiry into the mining industry, which has been the source of recent strikes during the last ten years.

The President promised to ask Congress for authority and appropriations to enable the commission to carry on its work.

The new wage scale it would fix would continue until March, 1923. By that time it was expected the commission would be able to make a complete report on conditions in the industry, so a more or less permanent scale could be agreed upon.

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH TO JOINT CONFERENCE.

The President's speech to the coal conference of operators and miners, which he called to end the nation-wide coal strike, follows:

The information has come to me that your conference is deadlocked, or at the best unable to agree on plans which will require extended time to work out. I have said heretofore that the government requires you who are parties to the dispute to settle it among yourselves, because you best understand all the problems involved.

The government cannot settle it for you. It will force no man to work against his free will. It will force no man to employ men against the free exercise of an employer's rights.

The government will not be partisan and the government is concerned with coal production sufficient to meet the industrial and transportation requirements of the country and at the same time against a fuel famine when winter comes again, and it is desired to have production resumed at once.

1922 SCALE EFFECTIVE UNTIL AUGUST 10.

Your government does desire to be helpful. With such a thought, therefore, I submit to you the following proposal:

Mine workers are to return to work on the scale of wages which expired last March 31, and mines now idle because of strike or suspended operation to resume activities, without interference with activities of mines now working. The 1922 scale to be effective until August 10, 1923.

A coal commission to be created at once, consisting of three members selected by the mine workers, three members selected by the mine operators and five members to be named by the President. All decisions by

Railroads Prepare for U. S. Action

Judge Dooling made the restraining order returnable next Monday at 10 o'clock. In the meantime the order restrains the defendants from coercing employees of the company, trespassing on its property, or in any way injuring its equipment.

TRAINS TO BE PROVIDED U. S. GUARDS

Government Moves to Prevent Interference With Traffic, Delay of Mails; Marshals to Assist Roads

Supervision of Rail Service in Missouri Because of Strike; Injunctions Are Secured in Many States

WASHINGTON, July 10.—A number of deputy U. S. marshals will be appointed to protect mail trains in the Middle West and Southern divisions, Attorney-General Daugherty announced today. Daugherty decided to take this step after a conference with President Harding.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Unless the government takes immediate steps to protect mail trains on the Wabash railroad in Missouri service will have to be discontinued, President J. E. Taussig of the railroad wired the postoffice department today. Taussig demanded the department of justice furnish deputy U. S. marshals to protect trains in his district.

PARSONS, Kans., July 10.—(By The Associated Press.)—Surrounded by three hundred Kansas national guardsmen, standing in a drizzling rain, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas rail road today received a telegram this morning with 150 men on duty. One of the first acts of General Martin was to place a ban on all street meetings. An official order was also served on all dealers in firearms threatening arrest to anyone selling firearms or ammunition during the military rule.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 10.—(By International News Service.)—Five companies of state troops were ordered to move to Bloomington today by orders of Acting Governor Fred E. Sterling.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—The nation-wide strike of railroad shopmen entered its tenth day Monday, with those in close touch regarding the struggle as entering upon its crucial stage.

Ultimatums sent by a majority of the roads to their striking employees, declaring that all seniority and pension rights would be forfeited by strikers who did not return to work today, expired at noon.

Both the roads and the shopmen apparently stood firm. A deadlock in the dispute continued. No machinery for re-establishing peace was in motion.

The railroads generally were preparing to open their shops with whatever labor was available, accepting returning strikers where their services were offered and endeavoring to fill vacancies with imported workers.

MANY TRAINS LAID OFF BECAUSE OF STRIKE.

Interference by the strike with train movements became noticeable Saturday and spread over the week-end. The suspension of forty-three trains on the M. K. & T. system Saturday was followed by the abandonment of thirty passenger trains by the Missouri Pacific on its eastern division. Several other roads previously had announced the withdrawal of various numbers of trains from their regular schedules.

Coal circles here have reports from the non-union producing fields of Kentucky and West Virginia, indicating that a scarcity of cars is hampering shipping. Roads in the coal region have reported normal movements since the shopmen strike.

In all sections where the determination of the roads to reopen the shops is known, a tense situation prevailed, and in many cases state troops, emergency police forces or augmented bands of deputy marshals were on the ground. State forces were mobilized in Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, California, Indiana and Michigan.

At various points in the same states United States marshals were in charge of shops where trouble seemed imminent. In most places where appeals for troops were made, it strikes said all possible efforts would be made to prevent order and they denounced the call for troops.

STRIKERS SAY RANKS ARE UNBROKEN.

The ultimatums of the railroads were termed an "old story" by B. M. Jewell, head of the striking shopmen. He asserted the unions were "not worried."

"These rights must be restored when a settlement is reached," he said, "and of course any settlement will be preceded on such restoration of rights."

Reports to union headquarters today continued to show an encouraging outlook. Additional men are joining the strikers, reported F. H. Knight, assistant president

1921 British Open Champion
Three Under Par in the National Meet.

SKOKIE COUNTRY CLUB, Glencoe, Ill., July 10.—(By The Associated Press.)—Playing the greatest game of golf seen on the Skokie course in many a day, Jock Hutchison of Chicago, British open champion last year, turned in a card of 33-34—67, three strokes under par, for the first half of today's 36-hole qualifying round in the National Open Tournament. He missed an 18-foot putt on the 18th for a 66.

Considering the wet course, Hutchison's score is looked upon as a spectacular performance.

Included in the first qualifying round scores turned in at noon today were:

"Chick" Evans, Chicago, 74; Jim Barnes, Pelham, N. Y., New York, 75; Phil Gaudin, Chicago, 78; J. H. Fenelley, Kansas City, 81; J. C. Germany in Financial Peril, Looks to U. S., Britain for Aid

By CARD D. GROAT, United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, July 10.—The mark, the barometer of German finance, tumbled to new low levels today as the Wirth government placed the future of the republic in the hands of the allies and asked relief from its debts.

Germany, facing financial, industrial and social collapse, looks to England and America to bring pressure upon France so that the latter shall not press reparations claims too far. From the French, unless London and Washington intervene, the Germans expect no mercy.

It required 2425 marks to buy a British pound sterling when continental exchanges opened after the week-end.

Germany's unofficial ambassadors, Secretaries Schroeder and Fischer, were to confer with the reparations commission at Paris this afternoon regarding Germany's request for a moratorium postponing payment of six billion paper marks, due next Saturday.

Dr. Vischer, chairman of the German war debts commission, and Herr Schroeder, under secretary of the ministry of finance, arrived today to confer with the commission concerning Germany's financial position.

France Prepares to Quit the Attitude.

PARIS, July 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Withdrawal of the French representatives from The Hague, owing to the attitude of the Russians, is declared probable by this morning's newspapers. Instructions sent to Premier Poincare are said to support this assertion.

The French experts at The Hague are at complete liberty to return to Paris at any time they are convinced they are no longer able to do useful work there, it was announced at the foreign office today, but they have not yet informed the government that they have given up hope of co-operative work with the commission's dealing with the Russian problem.

This statement apparently was drawn out by declarations in this morning's newspapers that the withdrawal of the French representatives from The Hague conference today was probable, owing to the attitude of the Russians, and that instructions sent to the French delegates yesterday by Premier Poincare supported this assertion.

The structure is to be erected by The TRIBUNE Building Company, a separate corporation.

Patient Overpowers Nurse; Recaptured

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—After a battle with his nurse, during which the young woman was choked and thrown down, James Nagley, a salesman of Turlock, jumped from a window in the private sanitarium at 1327 Leavenworth street early today and fled nude through the streets.

Patrolmen W. S. Cullen and Louis Balletto and Special Officer Grant were at Pine and Montgomery streets at 5 a. m., when they saw him running along the street. His head and face were covered with blood. They chased him to Montgomery and Market streets, where he was held for an ambulance and conveyed to the Central emergency hospital.

this commission shall be accepted as final.

"This commission to determine, as possible, within thirty days from today for the miners on strike a temporary basic wage scale, which scale shall be effective until March 1, 1923. In event that the commission is unable to report its scale by August 10, it shall have power to direct continued work on 1922 scale, until superseding scale is ready.

"The commission shall investigate exhaustively every phase of the coal industry. It shall reveal every cost of production and transportation. The President will ask Congress to confer authority for the most thorough investigation and make appropriations necessary to do such work. The commission shall make recommendations looking to the establishment and maintenance of industrial peace in the coal industry, the elimination of waste due to intermittency and instability and suggest plans for dependable fuel supply."

I have taken this short-cut to a resumption of operations because I believe it to be in the interest of the public welfare. It is that simple form of adjusting disputes which answers the call of good conscience and a just civilization. When two great forces do not agree, there must be a peaceful way to adjustment and such an arbitration opens the way.

Girl Bill Posters Blaze Way For C. C. 'Onward Oakland' Drive

A bevy of gay young women clad in white caps and overalls hurried throughout the city from billboard to billboard in automobiles today, as an opening feature of the Chamber of Commerce membership drive. At every board they stopped the girls plastered it with conspicuous posters, announcing the drive and carrying the slogan, "Onward, Oakland."

The girls were members of Jack Russell's chorus at the Century theater. Their white caps and overalls were loaned for the occasion by Moneyback Smith. Ten billboards have been contributed to the Chamber of Commerce by Foster & Kleiser, to advertise the campaign, and a space in street cars has been donated by W. R. MOB-HUNTED MAN IN OAKLAND JAIL

Frank Titos, wealthy cafe proprietor of Niles, who is being held in the Oakland city prison, charged with trying to escape after running down and probably fatally injuring Charles M. Welch of Hayward, was saved from violent treatment at the hands of a mob in Hayward yesterday by police, who spirited him to this city.

He was brought to the city under heavy guard after a mob stormed the Hayward jail in an effort to secure the motorist. Saved first from the angry throng that surrounded his machine after the accident occurred and Titos had wrecked his car in an effort to make his escape, he was later besieged for more than two hours by a mob of 200 persons, while officers stood with drawn revolvers to guard him at the door of the office of Police Judge Jacob Harder Jr.

I am speaking first of all for the public interest, but I am likewise mindful of the rights of both workers and operators. You are also an inseparable part of that public interest. Nevada Mine Plant Destroyed by Fire

ELY, Nev., July 10.—The concentrating plant of the Nevada Consolidated Copper plant at McGill near here, was destroyed late yesterday by fire, thought to have originated from defective wiring. Within two hours the entire plant including ore bins, crushing plant and tailings were nothing but ruins. A strong wind from the valley carried the flames toward the mountains, probably saving the town of McGill. The fire now is in the timber of the adjacent mountains.

Welch, who lives at 835 Allice avenue, San Leandro, was struck at the end of the East Fourteenth street car line in Hayward. He was thrown more than thirty feet by the impact. According to witnesses Titos, after striking the man, stepped on the throttle and sped away.

A half-mile from the scene of the accident Titos, while traveling at a high rate of speed, tried to turn off the boulevard into a side road. His machine failed to make the turn and he went through a fence. He was found by several motorists who gave chase after the accident.

Welch formerly lived at 1915 Brush street, Oakland.

BRUGHA FUNERAL WATCHED IN VAIN FOR DE VALERA

By GEORGE MACDONAGH. United Press Staff Correspondent. DUBLIN, July 10.—Armed troops scanned the funeral cortege of Cathal Brugha, slain insurgent general, today, searching for Eamonn de Valera, among the mourners.

The "phantom" former president was expected to participate in ceremonies honoring Brugha, one of his right-hand men in the republic and can move orders to arrest De Valera on sight.

Despite countless conflicting reports as to his whereabouts, De Valera was believed to be hiding in Dublin, awaiting opportunity for a dramatic move during the funeral today.

BRIDGE AGAIN BLOWN UP. BELFAST, July 10 (By the Associated Press).—A bridge at Dunfermline, Louth, again has been blown up, together with four others, thus severing rail communication between Dublin and Belfast. Passenger Train Derailed at Topeka. TOPEKA, Kan., July 10. The Golden State Limited, west bound, a Rock Island passenger train, left the track here yesterday just as it was leaving the Union Pacific tracks to cross the Rock Island bridge over the Kansas river. The engine, mail car, baggage car and the front trucks of a third car left the tracks, but did not overturn.

The train was torn up for some distance. The only injury was to Willis Sage, Kansas City, Mo., fireman, who jumped from the cab and sprained his ankle.

An investigation disclosed, according to officials, that a bolt was in the switch where the train left the track. It might easily be a bolt from the wrecked engine, and did not necessarily imply malicious intent.

of the Carmen's union, and all others are staying out.

The strikers are still "sitting tight" on the Southern Pacific system, according to the system-federation secretary, who reported that 200 molders and patternmakers joined the walkout yesterday at Sacramento, Calif.

"The sidetracks are filling up with bad order cars," his telegram reported.

Similar messages came from many points. A telegram from Congressman William D. Upshaw said he had addressed 2000 shopmen at Atlanta, Ga., yesterday and "was impressed with their law-abiding, conciliatory spirit."

S. P. Reopens Big Ice Plant At Roseville

ROSEVILLE, July 10.—The Southern Pacific resumed doing operations at the big ice plant here today with 150 Mexican workmen who were smuggled into the yards Sunday night. The men were brought here in two passenger coaches. Strikers were ignorant of their arrival until they were taken to the ice plant.

SACRAMENTO, July 10.—Operations were resumed at the local Southern Pacific and Western Pacific railroad shops today and there were no signs of disturbance. At the Southern Pacific shops the strikers' pickets let through workers.

Southern Pacific officials announced about 1500 men were at work as last Saturday. Union leaders still claimed 1800 men were on strike.

Because today marked the expiration of the time ultimatum to employees of the Western Pacific, picket lines at that plant were strengthened. One new man showed up, bringing the total to 1800 as against more than 300 who walked out.

Both railroads paid off striking shopmen.

Statements made today by the Southern Pacific Railroad company to the effect that 6000 striking shopmen of that system have returned to their jobs, were met with positive denial on the part of strike leaders in Oakland and San Francisco.

At the Eastbay strike headquarters at Pine and Seventh street, Oakland, it was claimed that no men are returning to work in the Eastbay, but that the few remaining men in the shops are now joining the strikers.

L. S. Gordon, spokesman for the strikers in San Francisco, predicted that the Southern Pacific and other roads would soon have to curtail service. Gordon claimed that there are not over 1000 shopmen working for the Southern Pacific from Portland to New Orleans.

The striking railroad men and their families are expected to be given the night at a dinner to be given by the Riverbanks business men as a mark of their friendliness and belief in the cause of the strikers.

That eight strikebreakers and four other workmen today quit the West Oakland shops of the Southern Pacific and reported at strike headquarters, saying that conditions were too hard for them in the shops, was claimed this morning by J. C. Good, who has charge of the strike situation in the Eastbay.

Good said: "The Southern Pacific Company is losing its men faster than they can be replaced. The strikers are in the hole of spirits and feel jubilant over the last reports."

"Good boy! I hear one can get a very good home on that plan. I'd like to get one myself as soon as I get the few hundred together." "It's the only thing to do. When I think of the money I've paid out in rent since I was married three years ago I could weep. I could have my home almost paid for." "Money in rent is just about the same as throwing it away when I think of it."

GOLD NUGGETS from the mines of Amador, Siskiyou and Nevada Counties

Are Being Displayed

beginning today in the lobby of Oakland's

First National Bank

Raw gold and the modern bank!

What romance is recalled, what development is exemplified in the display this week of $25,000 in actual gold nuggets—the choicest specimens from the mines of Amador, Siskiyou and Nevada Counties—at the First National Bank of Oakland.

Nugget gold was the common medium of exchange, the money, in California in 1849 and for years after—well within the memory of many who will see this display.

The early preference of Californians for gold money, which was thus developed, influenced the founding of this bank in 1874 as the First National Gold Bank of Oakland. It was one of ten national banks, all in California, which operated under a special congressional act and issued notes redeemable in gold during the period of reconstruction following the Civil War, before the Government itself resumed specie payment.

This display, which attracted so much attention in San Francisco during the Shrine conclave there, may be seen during banking hours every day.

DRIVE STARTS TO IMPROVE STREETS

A campaign for street improvements throughout the Melrose and Fruitvale districts was begun at a mass meeting of East Oakland business men this afternoon in the Fruitvale theater.

Paving and lighting of East Fourteenth street is poor from Lake Merritt to the San Leandro line, according to assertions made at the meeting. The result, it was declared, is that there are many more accidents along that thoroughfare than are necessary, and also that Eastern automobile tourists, most of whom enter Oakland by way of East Fourteenth street, obtain an unfavorable first impression of the city.

Those attending the mass meeting included merchants, manufacturers and real estate dealers from the two principal business districts east of the lake.

Suggestions from business men throughout the East Oakland section were asked today, with a view toward outlining a plan by which the paving and lighting of East Fourteenth street may be improved.

For Your Convenience

In securing the jewelry you desire, whether it be a dainty wrist-watch at $21.50 or a handsome blue-white diamond ring at $50, $75 or $100, or any other jewelry at any other price, we extend to you the privilege of opening "A Charge Account if You Wish."

Our patrons have found, in taking advantage of this privilege, that it is more than a thirty, sixty or ninety-day extension of credit, and that it costs them nothing extra. They have discovered that it is a genuine policy of convenience, enabling them to purchase jewelry practically on the terms that suit them best.

THE HEAVIEST POLICEMAN

ALONG with his size and his appetite, Frank Tully, largest policeman in three states, carried upon occasion a dignity of impressive proportions. In Curtinville Frank had been a policeman during the winter months for twenty years or more. With the approach of warm weather he left town for the four or five months he called his vacation and there was no one who knew where he went.

It was approaching the season for Tully's departure and the force, without hope for success, was following its annual practice of trying to win from the huge policeman some clew as to his plans for the summer.

"Wouldn't be surprised," suggested Sergeant Clark, "if Frank had a barge anchored up there in one of the lakes and while the rest of us were standing in the soft asphalt or pounding the hot cement, he was pulling in a few hundred fish for lunch. Some fellows have all the luck. Tully's pink cheeks grew pinker. He rose to leave.

"So long as the city allows me to take the time off and so long as it gives me a job when I return, I can't see that it is anybody's business what I do."

So Tully, the fat policeman about whom a hundred yarns of bravery, unexpected agility, and marksmanship were told, remained the mystery.

It's a pretty small thing for us to spend so much time puzzling over," Clark said, apologetically, "but when a fellow is so set on keeping his business to himself, and is so upshy when anyone quizzes him, it sorta puts me on my mettle. And then there are other things about all this that looks queer."

"DID you ever figure out how much it costs Frank to live? Do you know anything about his appetite? Well, if you or I had to feed a baby elephant all winter, and on a policeman's salary, do you think we could afford long vacations? No sir, wherever he goes he makes more money than he does here, and he's making sure no one gets in on the secret."

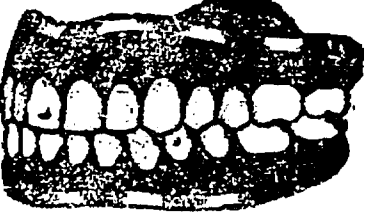

It was true, Tully had more money to spend than any man on the force. Generous to a fault, the smooth-cheeked and gigantic policeman, was a loved figure in Curtinville.

"When he pinches a guy for beating his wife," one of the men put it, "he leaves a week's pay behind with the woman and kids. It ain't natural for a cop to be able to do what all of us feel like doing."

On the Fourth of July Curtinville was asked to loan two members of its force to Meadowville where a circus and patriotic celebration were expected to attract a crowd which would tax the resources of the local police. Clark and Swan, Johnson, impressed with the plain clothes detail were the lucky men.

Protecting a circus crowd from pickpockets and short-change men is a job after the liking of the smaller town police. The sergeant and Swan, secure in the knowledge their faces were unfamiliar in Meadowville, bought pink lemonade, listened to the ballyhoos, and attended the side-shows.

"NOT that I care anything about circus," said Clark, "but after the crowd gets in that main top it will be our duty to go in and look after them. In the meantime, let's see what is going on in here."

The Curtinville detectives bought pictures of the tattooed lady, watched a heavily mustached man throw knives and hatchets at an indifferent and glorious wife, and halted in front of the human skeleton and the fat lady to perfect their plans. Clark became absorbed.

"I'll tell you what," he said, raising his voice and surprising his companion by the abrupt change in subject, "I hate a new and a strong bunch about our friend Tully. Whenever we get back to Curtinville I am going to let the whole force in on the idea. It will be a lot of fun and a big surprise. He paused, started away and returned. "It will be just as surprising. "As if—as if that fat lady there were to hand us out a $5 bill for our dinner."

The astonished Swan turned to the fat lady who was trying to hide a tightly rolled bill under a photograph and poking both at the sergeant and at Clark.

"You win," said the fat lady in husky voice. "But if you tell the bunch you won't live to boast of it!"

The force still wonders why Clark and Johnson have lost interest in the Tully mystery.

World's Oldest Man Dies at 133; Son, 90, Survives

GREASY CREEK, Ky., July 10.—"Uncle" Johnny Shell, said to be the oldest man in the world, is dead. Records he had preserved purported to show he was 133 years old, having been born in Tennessee in 1788. For 100 years he had lived on the same farm in Leslie county. He was "too old to fight" in the Mexican war. At his funeral will be two sons, one 83 years older than the other. They are William, 90, and Albert, 7. The latter is the son of Shell's second wife, who was 45 when she was married. By his first wife, who died twelve years ago at the age of 122, Shell had four sons and a daughter. His children survive him. Up to the last he maintained complete possession of his faculties. Physicians said they believed Shell was correct in the estimate of his age.

Girl, Fiance Dead; Rival Is Accused

Plans for Wedding Are Changed

Plans for the wedding of Miss Maude Faye and Captain Powers Symington, U. S. N., have been changed. Instead of the ceremony taking place at the Faye home it will be at the residence of Archbishop Edward J. Hanna, the services to be at half after eight o'clock in the evening, rather than in the afternoon as the previous plans called for. The ceremony will take place Wednesday.

Mrs. George Cameron and Mrs. Marshall Dill will be attendants upon the bride and Captain Symington's brother will come from the east to be best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Jackling gave a dinner at their apartments at the St. Francis in honor of the couple Friday evening.

Miss Harriett Rinder, betrothed of Goldwyn Carrington Dinwiddie has returned from the Mt. Diablo Country Club, where she was the guest of her fiancé's parents. Mr. and Mrs. William S. Dinwiddie of Claremont, who have purchased a lovely home near the clubhouse. Before then, Miss Rinder visited friends on the Russian River.

Mrs. Walter G. Tibbitts was hostess Saturday afternoon at a bridge at her home in Alameda, her guests of honor being Mrs. George R. Campbell and daughter, Miss Mildred Campbell. Mrs. Campbell and Miss Campbell are from Augusta, Maine, and for several weeks to Jonathan Tibbitts is now home from an eastern college on his vacation and expects to return early in the fall to complete his college course.

Mrs. Frank D. Miller has returned from Inverness after a vacation over the holidays, previous to which she had just returned from a motor trip to Los Angeles.

DOUBLE WEDDING IN LOS ANGELES

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Keller (Louise Cahoon), whose marriage took place in Los Angeles at a double ceremony, Miss Katherine Cahoon marrying Lloyd Wilson at the same time, will return north to make her home. The two brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cahoon of New Mexico and nieces of Mrs. H. H. McIntyre of Berkeley. Both are members of the Delta Delta sorority and were former students at the University of California.

Wilson is a graduate of the state university and member of the Del Rey Club. Keller attended Stanford and later went to Berkeley, where he entered the University of California.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cluff (Agnes Keller) whose marriage took place in St. Leo's church in Piedmont in June, spent their honeymoon in southern California and have established their home in Berkeley. The wedding ritual was read by Rev. Owen Lacey, assisted by Rev. Richard O'Donnell and Rev. John Buckley.

The bride is the daughter of the late P. J. Keller.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Webster, who have been in the Yosemite Valley, will go to Lake Tahoe for the remainder of the season. They have disposed of their attractive place at Saratoga.

MISS CHILDS

Calvary Presbyterian church was the scene of the marriage of Miss Marjorie Childs and Sifton A. Miller Saturday evening, more than a hundred guests witnessing the nuptials. A reception for the bride party was held at the Childs home in Henry street.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Childs of this city. Miss Doris Gibbs and Miss Irene Watts attended the bride. The two little flower girls were Mildred Pugh and Jean B. Ray. Raymond Pugh was best man.

Miller is from Fresno and the couple will make their home in that city.

The marriage of Miss Marie Schag of San Francisco and Ralph P. Olsen of this city July 1 came as a surprise to Eastbay friends. The wedding was originally planned for the fall. The bride was a former Colorado girl before coming to the bay region.

Olsen is secretary and treasurer of a San Francisco firm. On their return from the south coast part of the state they will occupy a new home in this city which was recently completed for them.

Miss Corinne Rose left recently for an extended stay at Santa Cruz. Frank Lyell, accompanied by his wife and son, Elmo, will enjoy a two weeks' outing on the Russian river.

F. W. Cooper and wife, accompanied by Wm. Zambresky and wife, are visiting at La Honda. Mrs. A. H. Morris left this city for the south, where she will visit at Los Angeles and San Diego. She will also spend a portion of the summer at Imperial Valley.

J. C. Barton, accompanied by several members of his family, left today for a three-day visit at Wilton. Immediately upon his return, Barton will attend the American Institute of Bankers, to convene at Portland, July 14 to 18. He was elected at a recent meeting of the Oakland chapter as district representative.

At a quiet ceremony at St. Clement's Episcopal church in Berkeley on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock Miss Sadie Jane Robinson became the bride of Lester Anderson. Rev. P. Augustus Martyr, vicar of St. Clement's, officiated. The

When Baby Complains.

THERE ARE MANY WAYS a baby has of expressing any pain or irregularity or digression from its normal condition of health and happiness. A short sharp cry, a prolonged irritated cry. Restlessness, a constant turning of the head or of the whole body, fretful. In these and other ways a baby tells you there is something wrong. Most mothers know that a disordered stomach, or bowels that do not act naturally are the cause of most of baby's sufferings. A call for the doctor is the first thought, but in the event of any delay there should be ready at hand a safe remedy such as Fletcher's Castoria.

Castoria has been used for baby's ailments for over 30 years and has merited the good will of the family physician in a measure not equaled by any other baby's medicine because of its harmlessness and the good results achieved.

And remember this: Castoria is essentially a baby's remedy and not a cure-all for every member of the family. What might help you is too often dangerous when given to a babe.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" talker sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcomed, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria is all its advertising has claimed for it. Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning Mothers. And once used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will scorn to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good".

Masquerading under many names drugs that are injurious to the tender babe have found their way into some households, but the light of experience soon casts them out. Are they cast out before it is too late?

When It's 90 Degrees in the Shade, Consider the Temperature Over the Wash Tub--

During the summer months, if at no other time, the Alameda County housewife owes it to herself to take advantage of Laundry service. Summer is the period of recreation and Alameda County has all of the RECREATIONAL ADVANTAGES OF A VAST SUMMER RESORT. It has the bathing beaches—in Oakland alone there are 280 acres of parks and playgrounds—and the drives and hikes in the east bay district are famous the world over.

Instead of struggling with home-washing machinery and tubs and boilers next Monday, just phone one of the laundries mentioned in this ad. Then get out in the sunshine and fresh air and see how much better you will feel at the end of the day.

Take our word for it and forget about the costs. The dry wash service which will take care of the washing for a family of three costs approximately 90 cents. And then you have the satisfaction of knowing that the clothes you send us are going to wear longer and look better, because it's an actual fact that laundry washed clothes last longer than clothes that are washed at home.

House Party Marks Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, 3853 Howe street, celebrated the golden anniversary of their marriage with a house party, at which 26 relatives were present. Three daughters wore their wedding gowns at the wedding reception Sunday afternoon, July 2. Many handsome gifts were received, including a purse filled with gold coins from the children and grandchildren. The family reunion continued during several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were married in Chicago, July 2, 1872, coming to California four years later.

The following were members of the unique house party: Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Estes and daughters, Florence and Lucile, of Morgan Hill; Mr. and Mrs. R. K. O'Neill and daughter, Agnes, and son, Grant, of San Jose; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Slater and daughter, Mildred, of Oakland;

Lutgen was found lying at the bottom of the stairs. No one saw the accident.

Mrs. Caroline and daughter, Charlotte, of Oakland; Dr. and Mrs. E. Ray Campbell, of Woodland; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thompson, of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hoffman and son, Hague, and daughter, Nancy, of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thompson and son, James Sanford, of Fresno; Roland S. Thompson and Clarence T. Thompson, of San Francisco.

ARMY NURSE IS FIRST TO SECURE HOME UNDER ACT

Appraisal of Eastbay Home She Is to Purchase Will Be Made Soon.

Miss Marian A. Hill, 4159 Webster street, member of the Army Nurse Corps during the world war, will probably be the first veteran to receive benefits under the California Home and Land Act. Appraisal of the Eastbay home she is contracting to purchase will be made within a few days. It is believed by the end of the month she will be in possession of the property. Preliminaries have been perfected by the young woman.

Eight applications have been approved by the examining board, including Miss Hill's. Preference has been given to disabled veterans under arrangements made for the operation of the State act. Because the Supreme court in a recent decision made a distinction in the use of State funds and those raised by bonds for veterans, a petition is being circulated which aims to make available $10,000,000 under the Veteran Home and Farm Act by vote of the People of California, for such purposes. Homes to a value of $5,000, and farms to the value of $7,500, may be purchased under the act. The purchase, however, requires 5 per cent cash, the payment to be extended over a long period at 5 per cent interest. Miss Hill's payments will be approximately $31 a month.

Miss Hill is classed by the California Veterans' Welfare Board as totally disabled. She enlisted in the Army Nurse Corps from Merced on July 6, 1918, serving over a year at Fort Douglas, Arizona, when she was discharged in a disabled condition. She is a victim of cancer, pleurisy. Miss Hill is in training for hygienic work with the American Red Cross. Previous to the war she practiced private and surgical nursing in Alameda, Merced and Sonoma counties. She is receiving $100 a month in national training, with $30 additional for the care of her mother, who is dependent on her.

Club in Labor Rows Denied by Bishop

CHICAGO, July 10.—Bishop W. O. Shepard of the Portland, Oregon, area of the Methodist Episcopal church, asserted here yesterday that the "bludgeon in labor disputes must go." In an address at a camp meeting service, Bishop Shepard also condemned the sweat shop and the tax dodger. "The liquor traffic is dead and damned," he told his audience. Bishop Thomas Nicholson of Chicago also spoke.

TAXI DRIVER ROBBED. SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Jack Rice, taxi driver, was called to Kearney and Market streets early today to take a man to the 1900 block of Buchanan street. Reaching there, his fare drew a pistol, searched him and took $8, forcing Rice to drive off in his machine.

No Word From Head Of Everest Party

LONDON, July 19.—Anxiety prevails in India regarding the whereabouts of Brigadier General Chas. G. Bruce, leader of the Mount Everest expedition, according to the Dally Mail's Calcutta correspondent.

Nothing has been heard of General Bruce or the other members of his party, says the Calcutta despatch, since George Finch, Lieutenant Colonel Strutt and Dr. Long-staff arrived at Darjeeling a fortnight ago. Officials of the Royal Geographical Society in London share in the surprise of the silence of General Bruce and his companions, which they cannot understand.

Unmasks Klansman; Assaulted, Arrested

AUSTIN, Tex., July 10.—Edgar Shelton was knocked down at a South Austin Baptist tabernacle meeting last night when he tore the mask off the face of an alleged Ku Klux Klansman, one of a party of men making a $50 donation to the church. The wearer of the mask was not recognized. Shelton was released at the sheriff's office under $200 bond to appear for preliminary hearing Monday morning. He is charged with disturbing religious worship.

Wouldn't you like this kind of washday?

You can have such washdays all through the summer, and the year 'round, too, if you like. Simply bundle together your clothes and telephone us.

We have other services, too, services to fit every family and every family purse. You'll find them all surprisingly reasonable—actually costing less than doing the washing at home.

Begin today to make washday a day of leisure—fifteen minutes for gathering the clothes and phoning us is all that's required to wash our way.

Man's Body Found in Blood-Soaked Bed
LOS ANGELES, July 10.—The body of J. Dillon, 50, of Belvedere, whose neighbors had not seen him for several days, was found yesterday in a pool of blood in his bed. The condition of the body made it impossible for the police to determine immediately whether he had been murdered or had committed suicide.
Under his pillow was a fully loaded pistol, and nearby was a note reading "awful pains in the chest; may be indigestion."

Kath McGinn-Gibson

Virginia opened the hall door to find, to her great relief, her dear friend, Mrs. Chester. The motherly soul told Virginia that she had been waiting for her. From her Virginia learned that Stratton had a wife living in the east. Virginia also learned the story of Maud Sanson, who, as a star, met Stratton, loved him, married him, and then, after a weekly remittance back east to his neglected wife and children, thinking his duty done with this Virginia, illiterate, destroyed, eagerly awaits the coming of Aunt Virginia.

Mrs. Chester awakened me by gently placing a tray upon my bed. I opened my eyes to her looking down upon me, her face all tied up in smiling wrinkles.

"Are you laughing?" was my stupid question.

"Yes, you look so funny, my child. Even before you awakened, your nose wrinkled up in a little sniff as I placed the tray with the coffee almost under it."

"We have been told that we are going to be very happy when we lose our bodies and retain nothing but our souls, but I have found that the material things which comfort our bodies are always great punishments for our souls' hurt."

"I am so glad you said that Mrs. Chester, for now I can enjoy this delicious toast and coffee and the wonderful strawberries to the fullest without thinking that, after all, I am a person who is capable of neither a great love nor a great sorrow."

"Yes, you are, my dear. Every one is capable of them, but when you become as old as I am you will come to know that the person who tells you that a great sorrow or even a great love engrosses him to the exclusion of everything else in life, he is telling you that which is not so. If it were we would be a race of maniacs."

"But you will have to hurry and dress, Virginia, for we are due to leave the hotel within an hour."

"Let's you and I go together."

"I am afraid that won't be possible, dear. We will have to go as they tell us, and it is very probable that Theodore Stratton will have arranged it so that you will go with him."

"Oh, I hope not. What will I say to him?"

"You will not have to say anything. Theodore Stratton will do all the talking."

As we came out in front of the hotel where the automobiles were waiting I saw Maud Sanson go toward the one at which Stratton was standing. He said something to her and she, glancing with a frown at me, turned away.

I hurriedly tried to get into the motor with Mrs. Chester, but the strident voice of the director called: "I would like you to ride with Mr. Stratton, Miss Winston. He will explain what we are going to do today. Most of your scenes are with him."

He fairly pushed me into a roadster which Stratton evidently was going to drive himself.

It was shiny and new and splendid. I felt that it was a part of the game which Theo had intended to play. He had bought this roadster expecting us to have long rides together in it.

I could not stifle a little feeling of repugnance as he seemingly unintentionally lurched against my shoulder in getting himself.

"What has that old woman been telling you?" he demanded, sharply.

"If you mean Mrs. Chester, Mr. Stratton," I said icily, "I do not think she is much older than you are."

"Don't try the innocent game on me, Virginia. I can't understand how Mrs. Chester got a room on our floor. I thought I had arranged for that."

"Arranged for what, Theodore Stratton? Do you mean to tell me that you deliberately arranged that you and I were to have connecting rooms on a floor—the hotel to which not another one of the company was assigned?"

"Of course I did. In fact, I arranged this location with that very thing in mind. You understood that from the first, didn't you. I told you I loved you."

"And I, more's the pity, believed you. Until now I did not dream that last night's episode was a pre-arranged plot. I thought that you were drunk. It never dawned on me that any sober man who had protested his love for me, as you have done, would deliberately set out to—"

"Oh, such rot, Virginia! Your ideas of love are of the kind that went out of fashion when the Indians left Hollywood."

"My ideas of love are the same as many of those who live in Hollywood. I thought, Theo, when you told me that you loved me, that you were asking me to marry you."

I was not sure if it was a guttural laugh or profanity that I heard.

"I still can't quite figure out where Mrs. Chester comes into the picture," snapped Theo, gruffly.

"I think it was Providence that gave the cue, Theo. For I visited upon her a terrible toothache, and she came to my room for a hot water bottle."

"Fate, huh! It was curiosity that sent her. It was curiosity that made her change her room from the fourth floor to the eighth? The old gossip monger!"

"I wonder if you realize, Theo, that you have made me the subject of the 'gossip mongers'?"

"I shall always thank my stars that Mrs. Chester was curious. If you have it so, and came to my room last night."

"What difference does that make? You had taken devilish good care to shoot that bolt."

"Then you did arrange it all, Theo, down to the smallest detail. I never could have believed that any man could be so vile."

There was silence for a moment and then Theodore Stratton began to laugh.

"Is it a laughing matter?"

"I can't tell until I know whether my picture is ruined. From now on, my dear, you will have to act as though you still loved me."

L. A. TO BID ON LAKE MERRITT POLE CONTRACT

Mayor Believes Energy of Southern Men Should Teach North a Lesson.

Aroused by the Los Angeles enterprise in the matter of poles around Lake Merritt, Mayor Davis today asserted that he will urge that Eastbay business firms study trade opportunities in the Los Angeles fashion.

"I am for Northern California, of course," says Mayor Davis. "In all my speeches I have pointed out the great advantages of the northern section of the State, and I've backed it up with figures. But while this is all true, it does not stimulate business. The way to stimulate business is to stimulate it. That is for our business men."

The pole campaign for the Necklace of Light around Lake Merritt is an eye-opener. Immediately upon announcement that Oakland will be in the market for ornamental poles, Los Angeles business firms sent samples here and special salesmen. They went after the business. They went after the right. From a standpoint of enterprise they have won a fair chance to get the business.

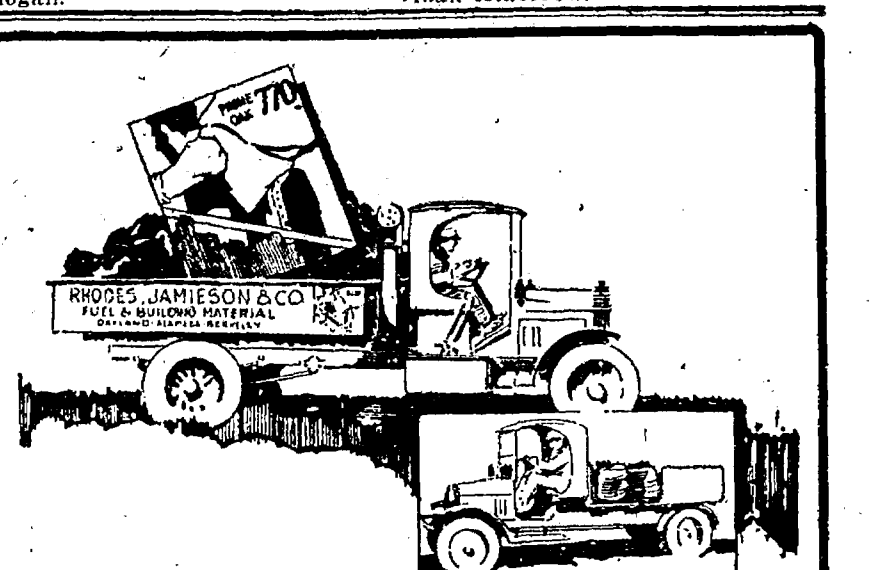

"But imagine an Oakland firm trying to sell ornamental poles around Westlake park in Los Angeles."

"It is safe to predict that every business firm in the south would be clamoring for the job, and they'd be right on the ground, ready to fight for the business and doubly ready to push the Oakland bidder aside."

"It is not my purpose to provoke hostility between the north and the south in California. I admire the enterprise of the Los Angeles firms. It shows why Los Angeles has forged ahead."

"Perhaps the incident of the Lake Merritt poles may teach us something, though, and it may be that the Lake Merritt pole episode may be the eye-opener which will teach bay city business firms how to help this section to forge ahead. 'Go after business' should be our slogan."

"It means warmth and comfort, cheer and contentment to those who have just a little grate as well as to those who are warmed by huge furnaces."

PERFORMANCE PROVES SAVAGE Tires Are BUILT TO EXCEL

IN SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA

The experienced San Francisco motorist looks for one paramount feature—paramount for him—when purchasing tires. His tires must not skid. Many motorists, after repeated unsuccessful attempts, have despaired of ever securing such a tire.

Tire manufacturers are largely responsible for this through claims they cannot fulfill or substantiate. Too many tires with no license for the name, but a pleasing or even freakish tread design, are called "non-skid." Yet really effective non-skid tires are made.

Some of them are only that—an effective non-skid and nothing more. They grip the pavement (wet or dry) remarkably well—and in doing so create a suction or vacuum that holds back the car, retarding engine efficiency and requiring an additional consumption of fuel.

The Correct Non-Skid
The scientifically correct tread design not only prevents skidding but provides for traction and speed as well. It permits your engine developing full efficiency at the same time that it provides for your safety.

Demonstrated in every territory in which we are operating, we have reason to believe the Savage Cord is a real non-skid tire. Used locally it has proved so conclusively.

In Taxicab Service
The safety of passengers is a trust not accepted lightly by conscientious drivers. We have record of chauffeurs insisting on Savage Cord tire equipment for wet weather use.

On local taxicabs our Cords are giving exceptional all-round service at a lower cost than any tire equipment previously used.

In Corporation Service
Big corporation buyers scrutinize values closely. Every angle is looked into and results carefully watched. Savage Tires are used by large local companies operating fleets of cars ranging from 10, 20, 50, 60, 80, 100, 600 and up to 800 in number.

The Reason
Tire men and motorists familiar with tire construction recognize that we have incorporated into the Savage Cord seventeen outstanding constructional features that make it a really remarkable tire.

perform equally well under every condition—on the short haul of the heavily laden commercial car, on the heated roads of the sandy desert, over mud and stones of the land of forests or the broad dirt highways of the plains.

That we have accomplished our purpose is evident from the results users of Savage Tires are getting—everywhere.

Almost any tire will give satisfactory service under ideal conditions. Some makes will even render satisfactory service under certain adverse conditions. Certain makes of tires will perform best on long drives over pavements, other makes will show to better advantage on dirt highways—and so it goes.

Our object has been to build Savage Tires to Sunday made no comment when apprised of the resolution, but according to the newspaper man who informed him, he "appeared unamused."

Storm Ends 43-Day Drouth in Chicago

CHICAGO, July 10.—Chicago's forty-three-day drouth was ended early today when a heavy rain struck all parts of the city. Some damage was caused by a high wind which accompanied the downpour. The rain followed the hottest day of the summer, the mercury registering 92 degrees.

The last previous rain of any consequence was on May 28. June was the driest sixth month in fifty-two years, according to weather bureau records, the total precipitation amounting to only .14 of an inch.

Highest Tax Rate in '20 Levied in Nevada

WASHINGTON, July 10.—A report on state tax assessments, issued today by the census bureau, showed that in 1920 the highest tax per capita on real and personal property combined, $18.47, was levied in Nevada.

California was the only state which levied no general property tax that year. The report showed deriving all revenues from special taxes and other sources. The highest per capita levy of special taxes in 1920, $6.03, was reported by Rhode Island.

From Jellyfish to Civilization!

THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE hereby announces the acquisition of the greatest of its many notable newspaper features of recent years. Contracts have been closed for "The Story of Mankind," Hendrik van Loon's sensational new work that has been called "the greatest book since the Bible." Almost 50,000 copies of "The Story of Mankind" have been sold in a few months, at $5.00 a copy. Subscribers to the Tribune now will hence get a $5.00 book in serial form without extra charge. In three months over $150,000 worth of this volume has been sold. As a result van Loon has contracted with a magazine to write his next story for $25,000, without the magazine having seen one paragraph of copy.

The Story of Mankind

by

Hendrik van Loon

High up in the North in the land called Svithjod, there stands a rock. It is a hundred miles high and a hundred miles wide. Once every thousand years a little bird comes to this rock to sharpen its beak.

When the rock has thus been worn away, then a single day of eternity will have gone by.—From "The Story of Mankind."

What the
says:

A Really Shocking Book.

THE reason why schoolboys furtively read dime novels under their desks during history hour is that, as a rule, novelists of the Nick Carter school have a far keener sense of the literary possibilities of suspended interest, dramatic situation and well-approached climax than is displayed by the pedagogues, with necks cramped in the yoke of tradition, who write textbooks. As good rules work both ways, is it not reasonable to suppose that if a writer of school histories, with all the comedy, tragedy, adventure, mystery and romance of the ages to draw upon, were clever enough, he might make a textbook so thrilling and absorbing that boys would stay indoors to read it when they might be outside at play?

This remarkable achievement has lately been accomplished by an American professor of history who wrote for his own children the story of mankind from the first brutish emergence of the human race down to the middle of the World War. His work is so clear and simple and so admirably balanced that it is to be doubted if the average college graduate has a more lucid conception of the history of the race than may be obtained from these pages by any bright boy of fifteen.

This book is of real significance not only on its own account but because it will probably exercise a powerful influence upon other textbook writers who have the courage and ability to follow in the same path and break away from the deadly formalism that old as well as young find so tiresome and uninspiring.

The advances in textbook writing that have been made in recent years are tremendous but schoolbooks are still susceptible of a vast amount of improvement.

The method pursued in the book under discussion is to avoid any attempt at unbroken narrative, but to deal adequately with the high spots of history, allowing the gaps between to take care of themselves. Well-proportioned biographies do not devote equal space to every week of the lives whose stories they relate. They are full and explicit in regard to significant events, periods of swift development and great pivotal occurrences but upon the interludes they are silent. Applied to general history, this method dictates the exclusion of much dreary chronicle and the lively treatment of such really vital topics as daily life and thought in various ages and countries, the rise and fall of vast empires, the achievements of those who have most influenced the thought and behavior of men, momentous military activities, notable advances in science, industry, political organization, art, religion, philosophy, exploration, discovery, social systems and the various struggles whereby man ever seeks to adapt his life to the environment in which he must live it.

Professional textbook writers will find this a shocking volume, for though the author's subject is a solemn and stupendous one, he has not been ashamed to give free rein to a lively sense of humor. He has even constructed two complete sets of laughs, one for his childish readers and another for those of maturer years.

If books of this sort should multiply and become commonly adopted for use in our public schools, American education would never be quite the same again. It might be brighter, more penetrating and fuller of the joy of living, but it would be different, very different.—From an Editorial in Saturday Evening Post.

starts in The OAKLAND TRIBUNE next Sunday, in four tabloid pages. These pages may be saved each week and made into a complete book. The Saturday Evening Post says van Loon's work will revolutionize the teaching of history in the schools. "I would rather that my son grew to manhood uneducated and to read 'The Story of Mankind' than to have a university education without it," says Professor Slaughter. "It is the key to ALL knowledge." The illustrations on this page are by van Loon himself, for he is an artist and cartoonist as well as literary genius. He writes so that a child may understand.

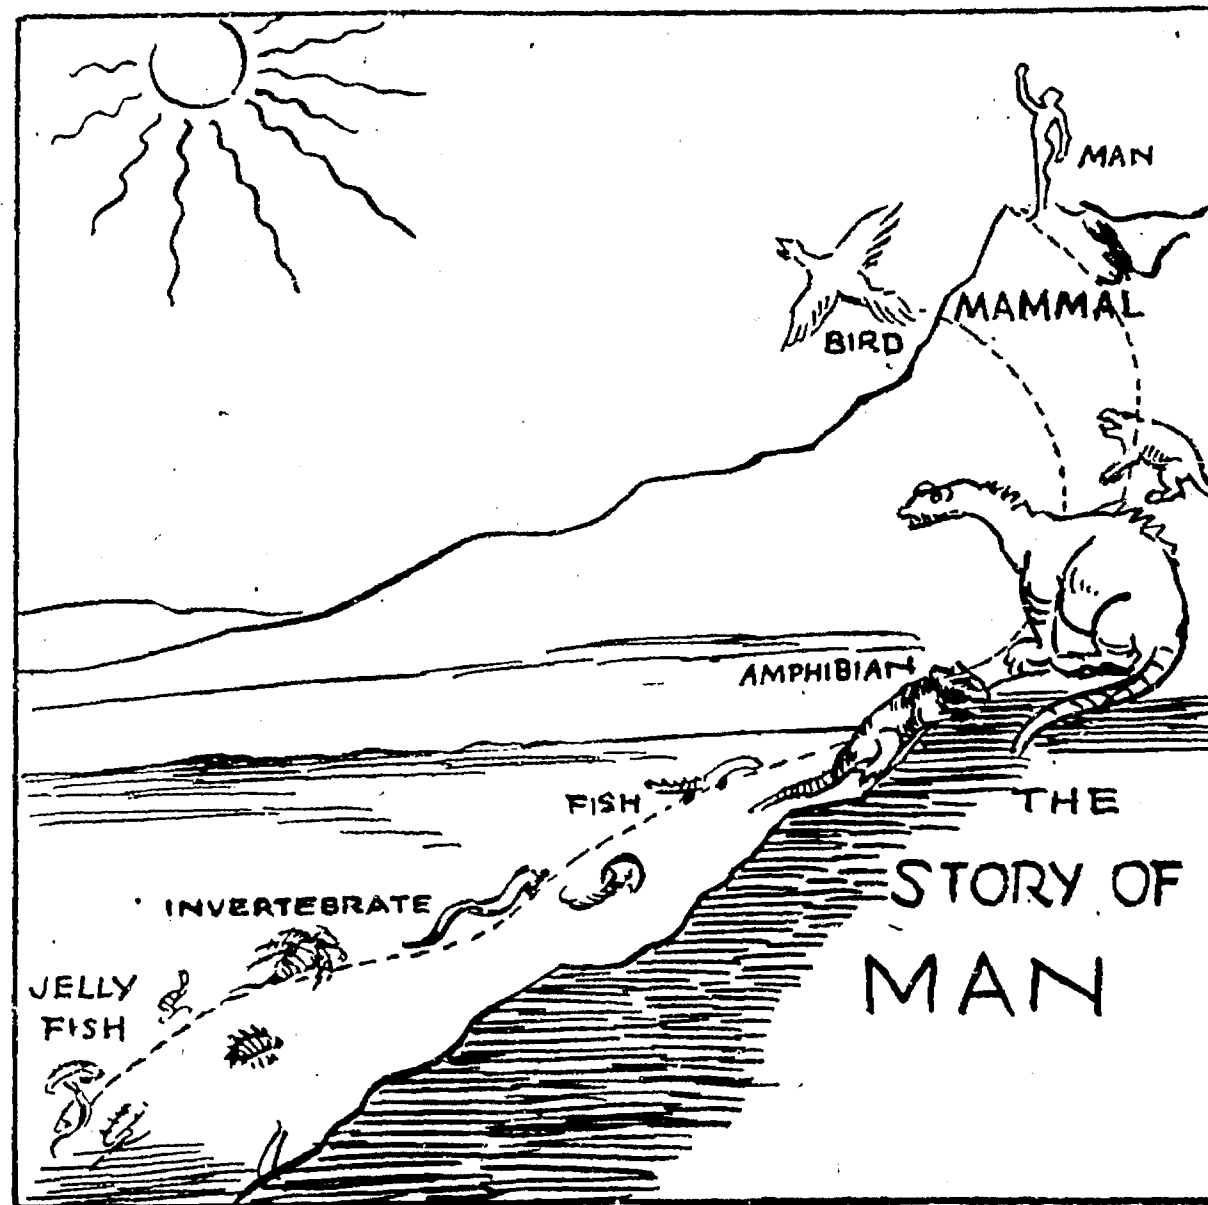

Van Loon takes us by the hand as if we were little children and so, in knowledge, are we all—and leads us up the steps of "The Mighty Tower of Experience, which Time has built amidst the endless fields of bygone ages."

"Here I give you the key that will open the door," says van Loon. And he shows us the world as it was: "A large ball of flaming matter, a tiny cloud of smoke in the endless ocean of space. Gradually the surface burned itself out, and was covered with a thin layer of rocks."

He tells of that greatest enigma of all, the coming of life: "Then one day the great wonder happened. What had been dead gave birth to life."

Step by step you climb the Mighty Tower, and look about you. Here Pre-Historic Man hides his wife and his children in a hollow tree or behind some heavy boulders as night descends upon the earth—"for it was a world where you must either eat or be eaten." There—far beyond the sands of the Arabian Desert, civilization begins in the valley of the Nile. Temples and Pyramids and first glories of the race! Onward still and higher—Mesopotamia, and Tyre, and Nineveh! The Holy Land! The Glory that was Greece, and Priam's Ancient City! Alexander of Macedon weeping because there are no more worlds to conquer! Rome and the world, tireless and legions, Caesars and law-givers. "Cartago esse delendam!" Higher still—Christianity and martyrs, the crusades and the middle ages, the civilizations of the Orient, the glorious Renaissance! The great discoveries, the reformation! Onward still—the American Revolution and the French Revolution—Self-Government. Napoleon—the Mar of Destiny. Ave-Caesar Imperator!

And then van Loon leads us, nearing the top of the Tower, onto the platform of modernity. He shows us emancipation and art and science and other great movements that are stirring the race of today. And as we look upon the immense panorama we feel that at last we understand something of the gigantic question mark in the shadow of which we live: "Who are we—where do we come from—whither are we bound?"

FOUR MEN RAID CHOP SUEY PLACE, ONE IS WOUNDED

Bandits Get Money of Chinese, But Gun Finds Mark in One.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—Four automobile bandits had little difficulty early this morning in holding up the Canton Chop Suey Cafe, 1242 Geary street, but after stealing all the money in sight they were chased by the Chinese proprietor, armed with a pistol. He succeeded in shooting one of them through the leg.

Terrified at the pursuit and apparently unable to manage their machine they abandoned it, fled on foot and obtained another car for the wounded robber.

Some time later the police found a blood-spattered coupe in which were two men. The police detained them.

Wong, Chinese proprietor of the restaurant, was alone when the four men appeared and ordered supper. After the meal one of them placed a five-dollar bill on the counter. As Wong reached for it he was covered with three guns in the hands of the band.

The fourth took $65 from the cash register and all ran off and jumped into the machine of K. Kurihara, a Japanese of 1774 Post street, which had been stolen a short time before. Wong seized his own gun, fired two shots at the men passed out of the door, and following them emptied his revolver at the rear.

The bandits drove to Geary and Buchanan streets, where they jumped out and fled. Later C. I. Keeler, of the Wellington Hotel,

WILLIAMS FIRES WRITTEN BARRAGE AT MAYOR DAVIE

Declares Reduction in Tax Rate Could Have Been Thirty-seven Cents.

A four-page written barrage was opened upon Mayor Davie in the city council today by City Auditor and Assessor Harry G. Williams, who took umbrage at Mayor Davie's recent statements concerning the tax rate. The communication was filed without reading.

In submitting the assessment rolls recently, Williams suggested that the council could now make "a material reduction in the tax rate." Mayor Davie remarked among other things, that "this is none of Williams' business."

Williams replied today in part as follows:

"It seems rather strange that no city official other than our mayor should have the right to express his opinion concerning the saving of money for the taxpayers of our city. I also claim that it is his duty to do so. I would further state that, instead of our tax rate for the past fiscal year having been nineteen cents, a reduction of thirty-seven cents could have been made."

DICTIONARY RESISTED.

"As assessor, I am vested with the authority and charged with the responsibility of preparing the assessment rolls, and I shall continue to discharge my duty in this respect without submitting to the dictation of any other city official."

Williams then quoted figures to show how the reduction in the tax rate last year was made, and summarized with a showing that $625,238 was saved by budget cuts. He then remarked that "had this added revenue not been authorized by the council to be expended for various projects and purposes, the tax rate could have been reduced nearly 37 cents instead of 19 cents."

READY TO CO-OPERATE.

Williams says he "notifies that the assessment of the city is not as correct as could be desired," but asserts "the assessment rolls are as nearly correct as is possible under the circumstances." He says he has always tried to secure additional help to handle the work but has been denied this boon every year.

"If the mayor cared to, or was even willing to co-operate with me," summarizes Williams, "he would find that it is my earnest desire to co-operate with him in all things that would be for the better interests of the taxpayers and the community at large."

KILLING WILLFUL, JURY DECLARES

The death of William Reinking, who was killed by gangsters on July 5, as he was walking in a downtown street, was "caused by a fracture of the skull, caused by a fall which was due to a blow delivered willfully, maliciously and with premeditated intent by Frank August Avilla, aided by Tony Alexander, as necessary," the coroner's jury announced today.

The jury also commended the Oakland Police department, and especially Officers Carl Anderson and Burbank in its finding for their prompt action in apprehending Avilla and Alexander.

The jury recommended that hereafter no person be allowed to remain on probation unless he has regular employment.

The jury furthermore passed a resolution recommending that all persons on probation be required to be indoors after 8 p. m., and that the vagrancy law be strictly enforced in order to break up gangs. Lawrence A. Mendenhall was foreman of the jury.

CRANE WILBUR'S DANGEROUS HOUR THRILLING PLAY

Popular Oakland Playwright and Actor Wins Deserved Paudits.

When an audience breaks in on the action of a play to applaud exciting actors, the success of the offering is practically assured for it indicates that not only was the acting good, but that the actors had been provided with something worth while by a careful and talented playwright.

This is what happened time and again at the Pullman theater last night at the premier of "The Dangerous Hour" and this spontaneous applause was self-explanatory. Crane Wilbur is the author of the new play and the reception his play was accorded last night must have set his mind at rest as to the task last evening for in addition to the worries of the playwright he had the strain of playing the principal role at a premier. The former task was not an easy or enviable one as much as the excellence of his play was responsible for a thoroughly enjoyable evening for a packed house.

At the present time "The Dangerous Hour" like every new play, is in need of play-dacting. In melodrama speed and action are essentials and the speed of "The Dangerous Hour" is international. The play is a first scene of the first act and the last act.

Barring this one technical fault and a general triteness of plot, "The Dangerous Hour" is a fine piece of playwriting. It is melodrama pure and simple, but it is distinguished by the splendid character drawing which marks each of the Wilbur plays and sets him aside from the rest of the profession.

Wilbur is a master of characterization, and his ability to portray distinctive and living types in his plays is noticeable in "The Dangerous Hour" where in a last of the three principal characters.

As a playwright Wilbur was fortunate last night in having these important and well-drawn roles in the hands of capable actors. In this respect the audience was also fortunate for it witnessed some of the best acting seen in a local theater for some time.

These who have more than passing mention were Frank Daren and George Knowlton, for their excellent work in the first act; Vaughn Morgan, for his repression in the dramatic scenes; the coward who became brave; Henry Shumer for the left touch to a small part, and particularly John Ivan for five minutes of really fine work.

To Wilbur went the burden of carrying the whole play in the role of the governor. Miss Suzanne Caubet pleased with her efforts as the wife, and insisted to her in that it requires a woman of exceptional dramatic power; and Emmett V. Gan, a new-comer who was a most polished villain.

The story of "The Dangerous Hour" is trite. It concerns the wife of a state executive who has been tricked into a mock marriage in her youth and who is later blackmailed. She kills the blackmailer, and her husband's younger brother takes the blame. Follows the usual difficulties to save him from the extreme penalty at the fifty-ninth minute of the eleven-hour play.

Although he took a trite theme for his play Wilbur did show originality and ingenuity of execution, and the finished product is something out of the ordinary. Throughout the piece dramatic incidents sparkle, and there is scarcely a dull moment in the four acts. With a tightening up of situations and an elimination of unnecessary dialogue, "The Dangerous Hour" is certain of success on Broadway. In its present form it is fine entertainment.

The play is nicely mounted and gives evidence of an all stage direction in the groupings throughout. Wilbur was forced to a curtain speech last night which is the proof of the pudding.—W. S.

ORPHEUM

"Some Wild Oats" started the second week of its engagement at the Orpheum theater yesterday and attracted audiences at each of the separate shows for women only and for men only even larger than those attracted to the opening day last week.

The picture was held over for a second week by the Orpheum management because the demands for seats during the first week was so great that all comers could not be accommodated.

"Some Wild Oats" has created a sensation because of the startling revelation of its scenes in all the big cities of the country where it has been shown. It deals frankly and boldly with the sex problem and social disease and has only been permitted to be shown before the public because of the great warning it sounds against that evil.

PANTAGES

America's most "cold-blooded" villain, the man who has caused millions to weep in delight and in the films—is appearing at Pantages theater in person.

He is Robert McKim, the stalwart, good looking and genial actor who has made many a picture featuring Bill Hart, Douglas Fairbanks and other stars, a screen story worth seeing.

"The Phantom of the Opera" provided a well-told story. "A Study in Tan" entertained pleasantly. Nada Norrine proved that she is the possessor of a remarkable voice, and Freda Loew, a young actress who has made many a picture, notably in the first scenes of the first act and the last act.

Will Morris tried to ride the bicycle handcarried by a costume which caused no end of entanglements and merriment.

AMERICAN

Plivver owners throw out their chests with pride; possessors of better cars are stricken with admiration and everyone whether a motorist or not is afforded a score of man-sized thrills in "Across the Continent," Wallace Reid's new racing picture now being seen at the American theater.

When a mechanical manufacturer disparages the machine of which his father is the builder, Reid, as the dashing young son, decides to disprove his father's humiliation and drive one of his cars in the race. He drives a prairie fire and beats a train through a tunnel and winds up by winning the race with a new record.

"Trip Through Paramount Studios" is the second feature. The scenes are taken in the Paramount Studios in Hollywood and Long Island.

NEW BROADWAY

Admittedly Lon Chaney's greatest characterization, that of Gaspar the Good, is offered in "The Trap," being shown for the last time today and tonight at the New Broadway.

It is Chaney's first starring role and deservedly so. He dominates every scene in which he takes part. The story moves with a dramatic intensity that allows the emotions little respite from excitement from beginning to end.

The program is well balanced with additional features, including a comedy.

"The Poverty of Riches" follows tomorrow. Mae Murray's latest production, "Pascination," and Mabel Norman's "Head Over Heels," are announced for early presentation.

NEW CHIMES

Scenes for Marshall Nellan's latest film production, "Bliss," which is a big success at the New Chimes theater yesterday, were taken in New York City, Los Angeles and in San Francisco's Chinatown.

An interesting "Love's Boomerang," the second feature on the program, starring Ann Forrest and David Powell, from the novel, "Perpetua," by Dion Clayton Calverley.

The story is dramatic and appealing and throughout the action there isn't a dull moment. The supporting company is one of the best in the present line, including Lillian Walker, John Miller, Geoffrey Kerr and Amy Willard.

STATE

One feature of "The Prodigal Judge," the special production now showing at the State theater in which Jean Paige is starred, is the painstaking care which is put into the detail of costume and local color.

The story deals with the old South, the South of 1835, when slavery and corn whiskey were still permitted by the State.

The story of "The Prodigal Judge" is taken from the famous novel by the same name by Vaughan Kester.

Rip Van Winkle's Dream," as presented by Frank W. Stafford, assisted by Marie Stone, the headlining vaudeville act for the week. Miller, Packer & Selz form a triple alliance of nonsense. Max LaRoche and Leone DuPrece appear in a novelty comedy, "Artistic Moments," and Maria Racko and her partner are exponents of equilibrium.

Gray's opening statement was interrupted by Judge Harris, who said he believed it would be necessary to consider the entire decision of the commission. He said he did not believe the court was empowered to consider only the section of the decision relating to back salary.

ENTIRE DECISION IN PETERSEN CASE MAY BE REVIEWED

Judge Harris Raises Question of Merely Considering Salary Provision.

The entire decision of the Civil Service Commission by which Walter J. Petersen was reinstated as captain of detectives of the Oakland police department may be reviewed by the state supreme court, according to a writ of review of that section of the decision relating to the payment of back salary.

Hearing of the petition opened today before Superior Judge T. W. Harris, with Judge Petersen, representing Captain Petersen, who is his father, and Leon Gray representing the city.

Gray's opening statement was interrupted by Judge Harris, who said he believed it would be necessary to consider the entire decision of the commission. He said he did not believe the court was empowered to consider only the section of the decision relating to back salary.

ANTI-RAT WAR BRINGS HARVEST OF DEAD ONES

The city's anti-rat campaign is said to be entirely too successful, so far as the Lakeside district is concerned. Some time ago the city health officers visited the district and instructed householders as to best methods for trapping and poisoning rats. The householders went to it with a hearty good will. Today, however, various S. O. S. messages were to the city hall.

There are too many dead rats, and they are said to be getting danger every hour.

The more than 6000 delegates who have been attending the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Christian Endeavor Union of California, were returning to their homes in various parts of the state today, following a meeting which terminated the 1922 conference last night at the municipal auditorium.

Long Beach was definitely selected as the 1923 state convention city before the final meeting was adjourned. Up until the last hour of the convention it was generally believed that Pasadena would be awarded the next year's conference.

Dr. Harry E. Strub of Los Angeles and other delegates elected to head the union during the coming year were formally installed into their new positions at last night's meeting. W. Roy Breg, Dallas, Texas, was chosen secretary, and in charge of the installation ceremony, which was witnessed by the entire delegation.

The executive committee and the new officers met at the Hotel Oakland at 10 o'clock, formally closing the session.

The out-of-town delegates of yesterday was the surprise service at the hotel. Hundreds of delegates took part in the service, which opened the closing day of the big religious convalescence.

Charles E. Culver of Los Angeles, former state president of the Union, presided at the service, which was conducted by Byron L. Burditt, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Glendale, was the speaker.

After the service many of the delegates left for San Quentin penitentiary, where a ceremony was conducted for the prisoners. A union service was held in the auditorium at 8 o'clock, with Scripture reading, music, and an address by Rev. Harry Rimmer of Los Angeles.

In the afternoon there were junior, intermediate and senior meetings at the auditorium, all of which drew crowded houses. A series of short talks was given at the intermediate session on the general topic, "He Is My Friend," by Doreen Earle of Berkeley, Frances Dunne of San Mateo, Kenneth Wilson of Los Angeles, Shirley Bridges of San Jose, and Elizabeth Alexander of San Diego.

Dr. Daniel Poling, acting pastor of the Marble Collegiate church of New York, gave the principal address, talking on "My Lord and I."

Henry C. Allen of San Francisco, field secretary, presided at the senior session, at which Rev. Edgar E. Strothers of China, talked on "A Challenge to Service," giving the history of the union's missionary work in the Orient.

Last night's session opened with song service led by Byron Burditt. The devotional and prayer for the convention was given and the Oakland 1922 convention committee, headed by W. N. Jenkins, was introduced to the assembly by Rev. Fred Morrison, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of San Jose.

There was a selection of the male quartet of the First Presbyterian church of Berkeley, and a solo, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," by Mrs. Grace Davis Norbup.

The new officers were installed and the convention chorus was sung under the direction of Edwin Crandall.

Dr. Poling also made the principal address at this time, speaking on "Christian Fellowship and Consolation."

The Oakland municipal golf links at Lake Chabot will be opened for the clubby season on January 1, according to present plans by the recreation department.

This was asserted today by Jay Nash, head of the department who planned to install the complete watering system for the big lawns and greens before the playground is turned over to the public.

Assailant in Fight

Seized by a man while she was walking at High and Sutter streets last night, Miss Lupi Ramos, a domestic, 2791 High street, beat off her assailant, who fled down the street after a desperate fight. The police believe they have a clue to the assailant.

Miss Ramos was dragged to a vacant lot and her clothes were torn.

The Colonel's Checking System

One of the most widely known and most popular railroad men on the Western hemisphere has for many years handled the publicity for a Canadian system. He is as popular in the States as he is in the Dominion. Wherever he goes people pay him tribute for his abilities as a story teller and for his genial and kindly habits generally. Those who know him are always glad to see him when he comes and always sorry to tell him good-bye when he leaves.

Having so many friends and being of so social a disposition, it is almost inevitable that he must do his share of drinking. A few years ago he suffered an attack of illness and the physician who attended him put him on a diet. One of the regulations was that, until further notice, he must take no more than one high-ball every twenty-four hours. A few months later he ran down to New York. He called upon a friend and the friend opened a bottle of prime Scotch. As the Canadian refilled his glass for the third time the friend said:

"Look here, Colonel, I thought by the doctor's orders you were allowed to take only one drink each day?"

"Yes, that's right," said the Colonel, "and I'm following instructions. This drink here, for example"—and he raised the tumbler and gazed upon its delectable amber contents—"this is my drink for August the twenty-first of next year."

Uncle Wiggily Stories

HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RAKE

"UNCLE WIGGILY, will you have time to make a little garden for me this morning?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day, as she saw the bunny gentleman getting ready to hop away from his hollow stump bungalow.

"Make a garden?" exclaimed Mr. Longears, with a twinkle of his pink nose. "Why, I made you a garden in the spring. I raked it smooth and I helped you plant the lettuce, cabbage and carrots."

"Yes, I know you did," spoke the muskrat lady housekeeper, as she tied her kitchen apron around her waist to wash the breakfast dishes. "You made a fine garden, and everything is growing in lovely fashion. But now I want you to dig up another bit of ground, rake it smooth and then I can plant some late beans."

"Late beans? What do you mean?" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Do you mean the beans will be late for school, and will they have to stay in and learn to tie knots in their strings?"

"Dear me! Joking so early in the morning?" laughed Nurse Jane. "What I mean by late beans, Uncle Wiggily, is that they will be ready for eating a little later in the summer."

"Oh," laughed Uncle Wiggily; "then I'll make the garden for you. I'll dig up the ground, rake it smooth and you may plant the beans."

Laying aside his talk silk hat, which he had put on to go adventuring Uncle Wiggily started to make a garden for the late beans. The bunny gentleman's feet were very good for digging in the soft earth. Before he moved into his hollow stump bungalow Uncle Wiggily used to dig himself a hole, or burrow, in the earth, where he lived.

"But I'll have to get a rake, such as boys and girls use, to make my garden smooth," thought Uncle Wiggily, as he dug, making the dirt fly, just as your dog sometimes does when he is digging up a bone he had buried.

Soon Uncle Wiggily had dug over a large square bed of earth and now it needed to be raked smooth so the late beans could be planted. Uncle Wiggily had a rake, which he had made by sticking some thorns from the locust tree through a strip of birch bark. The bark, with the thorns, like the teeth of a rake, sticking through it, was fastened to a long handle.

"Oh wow! That's enough!"

"With that thorn rake I can make Nurse Jane's garden smooth," said Uncle Wiggily.

The rabbit gentleman hopped over to the woodshed back of his bungalow. In this shed he kept such of his garden tools as he needed to use, a rake, a watering can and a wheelbarrow.

It was rather dark as Uncle Wiggily entered the shed, coming in as he did from the outdoors. Just as it is extra dark when you first go in to see the moving pictures. Uncle Wiggily stepped toward the corner where he knew the rake stood, when, all of a sudden, something banged the rabbit gentleman hard on his pink nose.

"Oh, dear me! What's that?" cried Uncle Wiggily.

At first Uncle Wiggily thought perhaps the Woozie Wolf or the Fuzzy Fox had hidden in the shed, and was now jumping out to get some ear nibbles. But a moment later the rabbit uncle saw that it was the garden rake which had hit him on the nose.

The rake stood in the corner, with its teeth out, and, stepping on these teeth, as Uncle Wiggily did, made the handle of the rake fly out and hit his pink, twinkling nose.

"But I'll be more careful next time," laughed Mr. Longears, as he picked up the rake and went out to smooth over the dug-up ground so Nurse Jane could plant the late beans.

Uncle Wiggily was raking away, and raking away, sort of laughing to himself to think what a funny bang on his nose the rake had given him, when, all of a sudden, there was a rustling in the weeds just outside the garden and forth sprang the Bob Cat!

"Good morning, Uncle Wiggily," started the bad Bob Cat. "Good morning to you!"

"Bad morning, I call it, when you come around," sighed the bunny.

"Well, your ears are good, anyhow!" growled the Bob Cat. "And I'm going to nibble them," and as he said this the hair on the back of the Bob Cat began to ruffle itself up, just as the back of your cat gets all fluffed up when a dog comes along. Seeing the rough back of the Bob Cat gave Uncle Wiggily an idea.

"Just a moment, before you nibble my ears!" cried the bunny. "My garden isn't the only thing that needs raking to make it smooth! Your rough back needs raking, Mr. Bob Cat!"

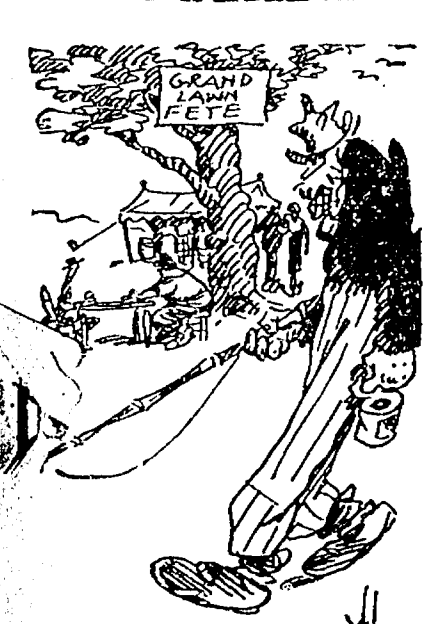

With that Uncle Wiggily began scratching with his rake as hard as he could, the back of the Bob Cat. Hard and deep the bunny dug the sharp thorns of the rake into the tender back of the bad Bob Cat.

"Nibble my ears, will you?" cried the bunny. "But first you must have your back raked!" "Oh, wow! That's enough! That's enough! Oh, wow! I'll be good! I won't nibble your ears today!" howled the Bob Cat, and away he ran.

"Ha! ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, as he kept on raking the garden. "It is a good thing Nurse Jane wanted to plant some late beans!"

THE Shriners were going to parade in San Francisco. AND IT THREATENED TO RAIN!! Now a parade is a parade wherever it happens. But a Rainy Day in California is like nothing else on earth. It's a Violation of All Compacts. A Per- version of Nature. A Malignant Misunderstanding. It simply AIN'T! IT CAN'T BE! No one ever heard of it raining in Cal- ifornia in June.

Every Californian took it as a personal insult and explained the matter feelingly to the Visitor. The Visitor laughed. He was used to rains in June. He couldn't understand why it rained such a rum-pump. The more the Californ- ian argued the louder the Visitor laughed. Then the Californ- ians almost wept tears and their spirits took on a steady determination. The thing had gone beyond a mere matter of climate had become a matter of Moral Issue. Whereupon the following little incident hap- pened—

The Parade started. Up Mar- ket Street it poured in blazing waves, a surf of color spraying muso as a foam. On either side of a solid human bulkhead glowed and cheered. . . . And then the rain began! Slow- ly, drizzling—drops. . . . The cheer- ing stopped. Almost all the gro- wns. . . . They opened. . . . In an in- stant down the lines went se- rious, scurrying men, whisper- ing: "Put 'em down! This job of mine certainly has its alleviations. Here's one of 'em.

"Dear Geraldine: I am going to start out by ask- ing you a question. Can girls and fellows be just good pals without a lot of sentimentality along with it?"

"I have a young man friend who can't see through that at all. I like this fellow and want to be friends with him. But when I go out with him or as soon as I am alone with him he gets sentimental."

"I have evidence that he isn't the only one, either. Other girls have told me that they have the same trouble."

"Perhaps it would be easier if I didn't see him so much, but we work in the same building, so naturally I see a great deal of him during the day."

"Jerry, please advise me as to the best way of treating these 'Sentimental Sammites.' I want friends and I want lots of them, but what I don't want is a 'love- sick steady' on my heels all the time."

"I have preached and preached to him that we are not sweethearts, but just friends, but it doesn't sink in at all. Of course I am the only girl he ever cared for, and all that."

"I am sure, but when I dress up in a fancy dress and PARADES and preaches, by Heck, I suspect it—and keep my fingers crossed."

That's the spirit, folks! Wasn't it bully? Doesn't it shoot a mes- sage home to YOU? Are the rains threatening? Never mind! CHAPTER 25.

The Old Time Yeggs

A study of safe-crackers would not be complete without due consideration being given to the "old timers" of the sheet iron safe period.

With regard to time and meth- ods of operation, yeggs may be divided into five groups. Old Timers, Gunpowder Yeggs, Dyna- mite Yeggs, Nitroglycerin "Ba- bies" and torch gangs.

The old timers flourished be- fore the Civil War and operated against the crude safes made of sheet iron belted together, with the riveted heads showing on the outside.

These sheet iron safes gave the appearance of great strength but in reality they suc- cumbed readily to the attacks of experienced robbers working with crowbars, picks, axes, chis- els, jimmies and nippers.

There was comparatively little safe-cracking, however, in- cluded in during this pre-Civil War period, mainly because everyone was busy taking wealth out of a land of abundance. An- other reason was that money had not been concentrated in the hands of the few then as now and, at the most, the yegg would get $25 or $50 for his trouble.

And then, of course, the idea that an incensed populace might take the marauder out and hang him to a tree may have been a de- terrent.

At any rate the merchant in the '50's and '60's was even more secure with his sheet iron strongbox than his more ad- vanced brother of a later period with the so-called burglar proof safe.

The old time yegg broke into a store or bank with skeleton keys or jimmed open a window or another door and, with a quick but, secure in the knowledge that no jangling electric warn- ing signals would bring down the police on him. If he escaped a capture, he would even into an- other county he was safe from apprehension because the inter- change of identification photos was not practiced nor did tele- phone and telephone lines herald his coming to other parts of the country.

The fact that the police and sheriffs had no high speed au- tomobiles, which to pursue him was offset by the circum- stance that he himself had to trust to the comparatively slow progress of a riding horse. Once the yegg escaped into the wilder- ness, however, he was as safe as a cat.

That awaited them—

Dashed madly into the maw of the great city.

Laying down a noise barrage—

As they scurried—

Dodging, ducking—

Beneath the feet of the maddening traffic—

"Hux-t-r-e-e-e—huxtreee—

Big moideer an' suancide!"

Huge auto trucks—

Pulsing with pent emotion—

Broke their leash—

And darted like mad toward the outskirts—

Loaded to the guards—

With the first edition.

Back in the basement—

Smudge-faced men mopped their steaming brows—

And paused for a moment—

Surveying the quivering presses—

With practiced eyes—

And awaited with tense features—

The signal for the second run.

Upstairs, nimble brained reporters—

And editors—

With anxious fingers on the world's pulse—

Relaxed at their desks—

And sighed audibly—

Their lined faces—

Revealing the strain of a prodding public's whims—

Yet glowing in the knowledge—

That it had been another day—

Of accomplishment.

While around multitudes of firesides—

In hotel lobbies, and on trains—

The finished product of their day's toil—

Was eagerly devoured—

By a restless public—

Eager to keep in step—

With the world's onward march.

A Visit to Mt. Olympus

CHAPTER 95

THE chief gods and goddesses of olden Greece were sup- posed to live on the top of Mount Olympus, a peak in the far north of the country. Their homes were places of brass. The finest which they could walk on either water or air. They moved as fast as the wind, sometimes even faster. The goddess of love and beauty was Aphrodite. She was married to a lame god. "magnificent" and of their time quarreling, so it seems natural that Ares should have been the god of war.

Athena was the goddess of wis- dom. She was said to have been born from the brain of Zeus. The people of the great Greek city of Athens looked upon her as their defender.

Hermes, the messenger god, wore a winged cap and winged shoes.

They are hav- ing a new kind of school in Tex- as—way down in Texas where the peacocks grow and where you can get "roastin' ears and hawm meat" just as easy and just as good.

It is a school for ministers' wives. What do you think of that? I think it is a good idea, myself. I wonder what they will teach the min's t-r-s wives when they get them into the schools?

Hygiene, I sup- pose, and psychol- ogy, and all the rest of it. Then, perhaps, they will have courses on what to do when the baby has the colic—and how to talk to John when he won't send his money home to his mother—and what to say to Mary when she decides she simply can't stay on the farm, but has just got to go to Los Angeles and get into the movies.

And maybe they will teach them how to talk with the tired, dis- played farmer's wife, who doesn't know a thing but work—work—work, and what to say to her when she declares that she is always hoping to wake up some- where, and that she must have gone, somewhere, and will never have to go back again, down there to the cattle and the range and the heat of the summer and the drudgery and the loneliness—again.

What a wonderful thing it is to be a minister's wife and what a difficult thing! The minister? Oh, that's easy—comparatively! All he has to do is to preach sermons. What is "magnificent" and the ladies will hover around him like moths around the flame. And all the men will have to be polite to him whether they want to or not, and no one will expect him to be "practical" and sensible at all.

But the wife—ah, that's another story! She must be spiritual and un- worldly. She must sympathize with her husband and understand his highest efforts. She must keep the children from under his window when he is writing his sermon. She must treat the minister's wife as a "practical" and sensible at all.

Tribune Clarice Patterns

(No. 1417)

The woman of heavy build as well as the slender one will no doubt appreciate a frock like this to wear mornings in which she can be both neatly and comfort- ably dressed. It is very easy to put on because it buttons right down to the hem. This feature also lightens the task of laundr- ing for it can be opened flat to iron.

This garment can be made in about two days at a cost of ap- proximately 65c if figured per- scale at 14c a yard is used with plain chambray at 15c a yard for contrasting material.

The pattern No. 1417 cuts in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3 3/4 yards of 36-inch material with 3/4 yard of 36-inch contrasting material. Price 15c, stamps or coin.

How to Obtain Clarice Patterns Write your name and address plainly, including city, giving the number and size of such pattern as you want. Inclose 15 cents in stamps or coin (wrap coin care- fully) for each number and ad- dress your order to Clarice Pat- tern Bureau, Oakland TRIBUNE, Oakland, Calif. As these are or- dered specially from Chicago, a few days should be allowed for delivery.

5 Minutes to Answer This.

Some of these baskets contain hen eggs and the remainder contain duck eggs, so the grocer's meaning is clear when he says: "When I have sold all of the eggs in a certain basket I shall have left three times as many hen eggs as duck eggs." The number of eggs in each basket is told in the pic- ture, so the problem is to tell which of the baskets the grocer will sell to prove his puzzling statement.

MEETING CALLED TO COMBAT FIRE PERIL IN HILLS

Final arrangements are under way for the mass meeting to be held Thursday night in the assembly hall of The TRIBUNE in the interests of fire protection. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the Contra Costa Hills Club and will begin at 8 o'clock.

The purpose of the meeting is to make plans for a collective and concentrated fight against the fire menace that threatens the forests on the Oakland and Berkeley hills. Large areas of forest floor are covered with dry debris and steps are to be taken at once to deal with this angle of the fire problem.

At the instance of Charles E. Warner, a director of the Contra Costa Hills Club, local organizations and individuals have been requested to do all in their power to arouse interest in the mass meeting. It is expected that plans will be developed at the meeting for forming a permanent organization, semi-public in nature, to co-operate with city officials in the work of fire prevention.

The necessity of immediate action is urged by Warner, by J. Carl Seiberger, president of the Contra Costa Hills Club, and others who are making the arrangements for the gathering.

CHAMBER TO FIRE OPENING GUN IN DRIVE

EXPANSION CAMPAIGN COMMENCES

The opening gun in the expansion campaign of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce to increase the annual income of the organization to $100,000 will be fired to-

Heads Boosters

HARRISON ROBINSON, chairman of the executive committee, which has in hand the general preparations for the Oakland Chamber of Commerce expansion drive:

night at the Onward Oakland dinner at the Hotel Oakland.

The dinner formally marks the close of the four weeks' education period of the campaign and heralds the opening tomorrow morning of the intensive four days' drive for memberships and service fund subscriptions. With the opening gun fired tonight the heavy artillery will be brought into play to carry on an incessant bombardment during the next four days.

Nothing in the way of organization has been overlooked to make the drive a huge success. Several hundred workers, comprising four divisions led by majors and captains, will carry on an intensive canvass to personally solicit several thousand prospective members that make up every phase of the business and industrial life of the Eastbay district.

INSTRUCT WORKERS.

These workers will assemble tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock in the south room of the Hotel Oakland and receive their final instructions from Harrison S. Robinson, chairman of the campaign executive committee, and "General" in charge of the offensive to create one of the strongest civic-commercial organizations on the entire coast from the standpoint of membership and finances.

Only three hours a day for four consecutive days will be devoted to the actual canvassing. Luncheons will be held daily during the drive at which the workers will make their reports and map out plans for the following day's activities.

The outstanding feature of the dinner tonight will be the address of Edward F. Trefz, of Chicago, who was brought to Oakland for the express purpose of giving the huge team organization its final inspiration before launching the big offensive. Trefz, who formerly was with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, is declared to be without a peer as an after-dinner speaker and the message that he will bring in the interests of a Greater Oakland through the Greater Chamber of Commerce is expected to aid materially in the success of the campaign.

ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM.

In addition to the speaking this evening a program of high-class entertainment will be given.

The success of the affair already is assured by the advance reservations and it is expected by the committee in charge of the event that it will establish a precedent for community gatherings in Oakland.

The dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock and will be followed by the program of music and speaking.

BIG CHECK MAKES TEN KIDS HAPPY

"A. E. J." must love boys—and mountains, and must remember the days when, as a child, the old swimming hole, and the night under the stars, and rambles through the woods meant all of joy. Whether "A. E. J." is a man or woman is not revealed, but certainly this unidentified person knows how to make youngsters happy.

Ten children are going to the Oakland Municipal Summer Camp in the High Sierras for two weeks because today "A. E. J." sent a check for $15.50 to the Associated Charities' Vacation Fund, in care of The Oakland TRIBUNE.

The social workers are having no difficulty in finding the youngsters who need the fortnight in the mountains, but of separating the ten who need it most from the great flock who have never known the gladness of woods is a problem.

Court Orders Welfare Board To Show Cause

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10.—

Judge Walter Perry Johnson, sitting for Judge, today granted a restraining order against the minimum wage for the industrial welfare commission was ordered into court to show why the $15 minimum wage should go into effect July 12.

The restraining order was granted upon the request of four girls who would be affected. Their case was presented by Attorney Henry Heidelberg, retained by the State Federation of Labor.

The girls are: Margaret Stump, Isabel Evans, Anna Culberson and Lizzie Poyseil.

Approximately 10,000 girls are affected.

Business Girls To Seek New Members

A proposed membership drive will be discussed before the Business Girls' club, meeting at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Y. W. C. A. The organization is purely social, devoting its program to recreation, dances, hikes, theater parties and dramatics.

Give your commercial organizations the same support which in other cities. When the committee calls on you, respond.

NEW DELAY ON SCHOOL HEAD LOOMS

The moot question of the election of a president, laid over last week from the week before, may come up again tonight before the board of education, but it is admitted that the matter probably will be laid over again unless there is a full attendance.

It takes four votes to elect a president. Directors Ormsby and Hatch have been absent recently, and the voting has always given Boyle, Chandler and Hatch 1.

The matter has therefore been continued.

Director Ormsby, it is asserted, is seriously ill and may not be able to attend a meeting of the board until the end of the year.

Other directors are starting on their vacations, and unless something is done soon it is admitted that the matter may drag along for a month or two.

On the other hand, Director Daisy Short is opposed to the reelection of Boyle for president, and Director J. F. Chandler feels the same way. The vote of Director Hatch, when he appears, may be the deciding one.

ORANGE MARKET SHOWS HIGHEST PRICES FOR 3 YEARS

Asparagus Very Scarce and Price Goes to 11 Cents; Plenty of Peaches.

Prices of oranges continue to show great strength and they will probably stay there until the new crop of Valencia comes into the market. The f. o. b. quotation of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange is now $7.50 per box. The standard quotation for very fancy 125s is $9.00 per box.

The price sets a new high record for about three years, and wholesalers declare that it is five or six years since Valencia reached such a height at this particular period of the season.

With heavy supplies of summer fruits and melons available, consumption of oranges is at low ebb, but growers are not at all worried for the reason that the crop is exceedingly short and there is fear that the cleanup may come before the new crop of navel is ready for market.

There will probably be a little asparagus drugging about the middle of the season. The price is now up to 11 cents a pound and supplies very limited.

There was little change in the melon market today. The arrivals were four cars of cantaloupes and four of watermelons. The new Turkey stuff may begin to show about Saturday. Its arrival will probably have a tendency to reduce prices as far as watermelons are concerned.

New local grown celery is beginning to appear and being held at from 20 cents to $1 per dozen bunches for best stuff. Corn is more plentiful and a shade cheaper.

Supplies of peaches continue heavy. Oregon Lampart cherries were offered in abundance today in competition with Blings at about 3 cents cheaper.

TWO KILLED, NINE INJURED, TOLL OF
SUNDAY MISHAPSFather and Son Meet Death
as Automobile Leaps Grade.

Two persons, a man and an 8-year-old boy, are dead today and nine others, several of whom are in a critical condition, are suffering from injuries, as a result of Sunday's automobile accidents in the bay region.

THE DEAD.
A. V. Simms, 45, residing at 45 Terrace street, Petaluma.
Horace Simms, 8, same address.

THE INJURED.
Mrs. D. Simms, 45 Pierce street, Petaluma, cut and bruised about the head and body and suffering from shock.
Eleanor Simms, 9, bruised and lacerated.

George Simms, 10, contusions about the body.
Charles M. Welch, 50 years old, 835 Alice avenue, San Leandro, both legs broken and internally injured.

Louis Dershuwer, 1225 Geary street, San Francisco, fractured skull, probably fatally injured.
P. A. Donahue, 625 Pine street, San Francisco; cuts and bruises.

Mrs. P. A. Donahue, same address; cuts and bruises.
Dontone Deserve, 3663 Thirtieth avenue; broken ribs.

Albert Ronconi, 1055 Stockton street, San Francisco; badly cut and bruised.

Simms and his 8-year-old son were killed, and Mrs. Simms and two other children were injured in a crash which occurred when Simms, who was driving the automobile, did not see a sharp curve in a road and the car plunged 100 feet over an embankment.

KILLED IN FALL.
Simms and his youngest son were pinned beneath the machine, the father's chest and the lad's head being crushed. The wife and two children were caught under the car, but not seriously injured. Their cries attracted the attention of Bates Dickson, a rancher, who extricated the bodies from the wreckage and removed the injured to a hospital.

Welch is in the county hospital suffering from serious injuries as a result of being struck yesterday afternoon by an automobile driven by Frank Titos, wealthy restaurateur owner of Niles. Titos was arrested and is held on a charge of driving away without offering assistance. He is held in the Oakland jail. The accident occurred on the Niles road two blocks outside of Hayward. Welch's recovery is doubtful.

CAR DITCHED.
Dershuwer was probably fatally injured and Mr. and Mrs. Donahue were hurt when their machine left the road last night near Burlingame and went into a ditch and overturned. The injured motorists were taken to the Mills Memorial hospital at San Mateo.

A broken rib was the only injury sustained by Deserve when his automobile plunged over a 100-foot embankment on the Boy Scout Camp road. Joe Rose, 2636 Patterson street and Joe Sevidio, riding with him, managed to leap from the car as it started down, and were uninjured.

LESSON NO. 102.
THE VACUUM TUBE AS AN OSCILLATOR.

(All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction Prohibited.)

An amplifier can be made to oscillate and the period of the oscillations will depend upon the electrical constants of the instrument. The automatic pistol is a good example of an amplifier and it will be interesting to show the manner in which it may be caused to sustain its own action and discharge periodically.

The automatic pistol is spoken of as an amplifier because a small amount of energy applied in the proper direction to the trigger may be made to release a much greater amount of energy stored in the cartridge as potential chemical energy in the form of gunpowder. If a portion of the secondary energy thus released, sufficient to actuate the trigger, is coupled mechanically to the trigger it will cause the pistol to discharge continuously as long as cartridges are supplied to the magazine.

Diagram (A) serves to illustrate this principle. In this diagram the target (T) is hinged on the rod (R) which is connected to link (C) by means of the bar (L). Link (C) is pivoted at (P) with one end coupled to the trigger and the other end to the bar (L). If the trigger is now pulled a bullet will be discharged and on striking the target, with sufficient force it will again pull the trigger and so on repeat.

The period of repetition will depend upon the time of travel of the bullet to the target and the inertia of the target, connecting mechanism and pistol. Lengthening the distance between pistol and target will make the period slower, shortening the distance will make the period faster.

The second analogy is shown in diagram (B) in which a microphone, battery and telephone receiver are connected in series and the circuit closed. The receiver is coupled to the microphone. If the microphone (T) is tapped gently and the battery (B) is of proper value the receiver (R) will amplify the sound of the tap and this sound will travel across the space between the receiver and microphone and cause a repetition of the sound in passing through this space are not too great. This is commonly known as "howling" and is not unusual on telephone lines. The period of the oscillation of this system depends upon the electrical impedance of the telephone receiver, the inertia of the microphone and receiver diaphragms and the distance between them.

In diagram (C) is shown a three electrode valve amplifier-oscillator. The grid when disturbed electrically affects a much larger amount of energy provided by the battery (B). If this charge be properly coupled to the grid, oscillations will be produced. This coupling may be magnetic by coupling plate coil (T) to grid coil (S) or by means of a capacity coupling condenser connected across the plate and grid as shown in dotted lines.

The period of oscillation of this system will depend upon the electrical constants of the coils (T) and (S) and the electrical constants of the tube. Larger coils and condensers produce a slower period and vice versa. It should be remembered that the frequency or period of a circuit is inversely proportional to the wave length.

TRIBUNE OFFERS
DOUBLE BILL TO FANS TOMORROWNoted Musicians to Play in Afternoon; 'Senators' to Sing in Evening.

Two programs of high-class entertainment for the coast radio audience are to be broadcast tomorrow afternoon and evening from the TRIBUNE'S radio station. The first, from 2:30 to 4:30, when KZM will broadcast on the time of KZY, and the second between 7:30 and 8:15.

The first program will be broadcast by Miss Marjorie Chapin and Alice Davies-Endriss, both well-known in musical circles.

Mrs. Endriss, who is a gifted violinist, is soon returning to the concert stage after a retirement of four years, during which time she has appeared only before clubs and at recitals. She has played for 16 years before the public.

Miss Chapin, who recently returned from Honolulu, studied at the New England Conservatory of Music and later gave several piano recitals in Honolulu. She is just "coming out" and according to music critics, has promise of staying out.

AFTERNOON PROGRAM.
The program which Mrs. Endriss and Miss Chapin will render tomorrow afternoon follows:

Violin solos by Mrs. Endriss:
On Wings of Song..... Mendelssohn
Transcription..... Achorn
Tambourin Chinois..... Kreisler
Indian Lament..... Kreisler

Miss Chapin on the piano:
Nocturne (B major)..... Chopin
Witch's Dance..... MacDowell
Tanto..... Albeniz

Mrs. Endriss, violin:
Nocturne (B major)..... Chopin
Heide Kull..... Hubay
Wild Rose..... MacDowell
Spanish Dance..... Rehfeld

'SENATORS' AT NIGHT.
Tomorrow evening between 7:30 and 8:15 the "Three Senators," who are appearing at the T. & D. theater in an atmospheric production starring Tom Mix, will display their vocal talent to the radio audience. They will sing the songs with which they are delighting the T. & D. crowds.

The "Three Senators"—Jack Hayden, J. R. Hall and Frank E. Snyder—were the first to broadcast their songs over the radio-telephone. This was two years ago, when radio was young. Since that time they have broadcast from many stations.

Among the most prominent song selections they will offer are "She Gave Them to Me," "The Farmer," "A Little Vocal Chop Suey," "My Gipsy Sweetheart," from the opera "The Fortune Teller," "The Three Leaves of Shamrock" and "Calling Me Home," and many other numbers.

PIANIST IS HEARD.
The program broadcast this afternoon from KZM, on the time of KZY, was a piano recital by Miss Mildred Crawford, popular pianist, who has achieved a place of prominence. Miss Constance Hastings, graduate of the Emerson College of Oratory of Boston and official story teller at the Portland convention, entertained the youngsters with several delightful stories.

The program yesterday afternoon, broadcast by Miss Rosalie Harrison and Mrs. Claire Upshur, was excellent, judging from the number of "checks" received by KZM. Miss Harrison and Mrs. Upshur are two favorites with the radio audience.

QUESTIONS

Radio Editor TRIBUNE:
1—My loose coupler consists of No. 22 enameled wire on a tube 9 inches long and 1/4 inches in diameter. The secondary wound with 450 feet of No. 22 D. C. wire taped every 20 turns. Should this instrument work satisfactorily?

2—These are loose couplers tuned as clear or better than a direct contact tuning coil?

3—Do you know where I can purchase a 2400 cycle crystal in Oakland or San Francisco?

4—My antenna is 35 feet high, 200 feet long. It is a single strand, but is formed in a loop, having lead-in from one end. Is it O. K. that way?

5—Are two 22-plate condensers in series as good as one 44-plate condenser?

6—What metal is generally used for resistance wire in telephone receivers?

Japanese Training
Ships at Honolulu

HONOLULU, T. H., July 10.—The Japanese naval training squadron, composed of three cruisers, arrived here today for a five-day visit. The ships were met by Consul S. Yada and representatives of the Japanese consulate and a dinner Tuesday. The squadron will leave Thursday for San Diego en route to Rio de Janeiro.

a crystal easily spoiled by contact scratching, or by moisture? MEMBER O. T. R. C. No. 1530.

1—Yes.
2—A loose coupler tunes closer than a straight tuning coil.

3—No, this type of detector is not obtainable. We do not believe you will be able to purchase it locally.

4—No; connecting them in series reduces the effective capacity between the plates of one condenser.

5—Small copper wire is used to wind phone receivers.

6—Yes, but do not connect the condensers in series.

7—Yes.
8—Yes.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE:
1—What length should an aerial be when used with a regenerative receiver tuning between the wave lengths of 175 and 2400 meters?

2—What length should an aerial be when used with honeycomb tuners tuning between the wave lengths of 2400 and 25,000 meters?

3—Are there any benefits to tuning in Sa. Jose, outside the questions and answers department?

4—It is O. K.
5—Two wire, 70 feet long.

6—The same length as above.

7—The TRIBUNE would consider arranging for a workshop there if enough members from San Jose requested it.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE:
1—I have a loose coupler, fixed condenser and detector. Will a variable condenser cut out the interference?

2—A variable condenser will do no good if the interference is close by you.

P. O. ADVERTISES
OAKLAND HEALTH, SAFETY EXHIBIT

Cancellations Call Attention to Exposition to Be Held Here Nov. 17-26.

Through the co-operation of the postoffice department the world is to be told of Oakland's International Health and Safety Exposition to be held in this city under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce November 17-26. Recently the government authorized a special cancellation stamp to be used in the Oakland postoffice. The dyes have arrived and were put into use for the first time today.

From now until next November every one of the hundreds of thousands of letters leaving the local postoffice will go forth carrying across the face the wording "Oakland Health and Safety Exposition, November 17-26."

The International Health and Safety Exposition will be held in the municipal auditorium next November, and will be the biggest event of its kind ever staged on the Pacific coast.

Co-operating with the Chamber of Commerce in its success are the University of California, Stanford University, United States public health service, officials of Oakland and Alameda county, the Alameda county public health center, the American Red Cross and the California state department of health.

Give your commercial organizations the same support given in other cities. When the committee calls on you, respond.

TWO PROGRAMS
ON BASTILLE DAY
BEING PLANNED

French Colony Split; Rival
Factions Are Arranging Separate Events.

Two distinct celebrations will commemorate July 14, Fall of the Bastille Day, in Oakland, on account of a schism that has arisen in the French colony of the Embarcadero. One of the celebrations will be held at Idora park under the direction of Edouard Peret and the other, at Neptune Beach, will be presided over by J. P. Palu.

J. D. Borie, of the French-American Club, and general chairman of the Neptune Beach celebration, declared that the split is not to be regarded as serious. Borie claimed that the Lafayette club, with which Edouard Peret is connected, wished to join with San Francisco in the celebration, but that the local Franco-American club wanted to observe the historical day on the east side of the bay, and consequently went ahead with its own plans.

The address of the day will be delivered at the Idora Park celebration by Charles C. Moore. The other speakers will be P. Coppinger, President of the San Francisco French Club, Mayor John L. Davis of Oakland, and Abbe Henry Langlard, officer of the French Academy and late captain in the United States Army.

Mayor Frank J. Ols of Alameda and Professor Richard Holbrook of the University of California will be the main speakers at the Neptune Beach celebration. Other speakers will be James H. MacLafferty, who will talk on "American Citizenship," and Richard M. Lyman Jr.
